CZECHS AND JUGO-SLAVS PARADED STREETS OF PRAGUE ACCLAIMING HEADS OF ENTENTE GOVERNMENTS

Throgs Shouted for Lloyd George, Clemenceau and Wilson and Denounced Alliance Between Austria and Germany; State of Siege Proclaimed at Prague

London, May 20.—A state of siege has been proclaimed at Prague, the capital of Bohemia, by the police, and the military garrison has been reinforced. These counter-measures, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Zurich, followed demonstrations of an anti-German character in which Czechs and Jugo-Slavs paraded about the streets shouting "Long live Lloyd George, Clemenceau and Wilson."

At a performance in the National Bohemian Theatre speeches violently attacking Germany were made and the renewal of the alliance between Germany and Austria was denounced. Several Deputies addressed the crowd, urging resistance to the end and the sacrificing of the wealth and blood of Bohemia if need be.

The theatre then was closed and rioting occurred in the streets outside. The Jugo-Slavs, who had taken part in Bohemian festivities, were ordered to leave the city. Crowds singing patriotic songs accompanied them to the railway station.

WATERS ATTACKS MR. LLOYD GEORGE

President of Dominion Congress Calls Prime Minister Tricky Politician

Toronto, May 20.—"Three times I called Mr. Lloyd George asking him to give instructions to Sir Joseph Flavelle, the devoted head of the Imperial Munitions Board, to co-operate with the Dominion Trades Congress in the interests of the Canadian workers. We were turned down, and then upon my advice and request Sir Robert Borden called twice. Again we were turned down. I have said that Mr. Lloyd George is the trickiest politician who ever masqueraded as a statesman, and I repeat it," declared J. C. Waters, president of the Dominion Trades Congress to a convention of labor men who met on Saturday to devise and draw up a constitution for a Toronto Labor party.

He made this attack upon Mr. Lloyd George to explain to the convention that Canada received her instructions from Downing Street. Mr. Waters also attacked Mackenzie and Mann, Sir Joseph Flavelle and Sir Clifford Sifton. He expressed the opinion that if the German workers had been as strongly organized industrially and politically as the German nation was militarily, this war would never have occurred.

STRIKERS MAY BE TREATED AS LOAFERS

Borden Hints Winnipeg Men on Sympathetic Strike May Be Handled

Ottawa, May 20.—The question of the strike at Winnipeg was raised by Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux in the House of Commons this morning. It was a question of some importance, and it seemed to have developed most seriously. The public utilities of Winnipeg were practically in a state of collapse. He asked if the Government was in a position to state what measures had been taken to prevent the strike, and if compulsory investigation had been applied for under the Industrial Disputes and Investigation Act, and if so, if an investigation had been granted. Sir Robert Borden said the Minister of Labor, who was not in the House at the moment, would be better able to answer the questions. Sir Robert Borden stated that a portion of the employees had agreed to an arbitration board with regard to the civic employees as a whole. It would be understood that the relations between the municipality and its employees were a matter of provincial jurisdiction and concern. It was a matter which must be dealt with by the Provincial Legislature and by the municipalities under the authority of the Provincial Legislature. It had been pointed out that so far as civic employees were concerned it was both the right and the duty of the Provincial Legislature to make such regulations as it might see fit. Under the Criminal Code any person who violated the provisions of a misdemeanor, or a statute was guilty of a misdemeanor.

Sympathetic Strike.
With respect to the sympathetic strike, the Government was not in possession of absolute information, but this might be received in the course of a day.
"I should very greatly doubt, speaking without much consideration," Sir Robert added, "whether persons who are proceeding on what is known as a sympathetic strike would thereby free themselves from the penalties of the Order-in-Council passed in April and commonly known as the anti-loading law."

U. S. Yards Will Put Out Fifty Big New Vessels Next Month

New York, May 20.—Fifty ships of major size will be put into commission at American yards next month and a larger number will be ready for sailing in July and August, said Bainbridge Colby, United States Shipping Commissioner, in an address here Saturday night.

"The enemy submarine is at last on the point of being mastered," declared Mr. Colby. "We will choke the Seven Seas with American shipping."

Another Armenian Massacre by Turks Now Is in Progress

London, May 20.—The Turks have resumed the offensive all along the Caucasian front, and have captured Van, says a dispatch from Tiflis, dated May 12. Another Armenian massacre has been started.

The negotiations for a separate peace between the Caucasian Diet and the German Government have been broken off owing to the exorbitant demands of the Turks.

Ex-Czar of Russia Chooses Switzerland as Scene of Exile

Geneva, May 20.—Nicholas Romanoff, former Emperor of Russia, and his family, according to a report printed in Vienna newspapers, has been given his choice of exile in Roumania or in Switzerland. This concession, it is added, was granted by the Soviet Government on certain conditions. The principal one was that he would refrain from making any effort to return to the Russian throne.

U-39 Last Night Went Into Spanish Port in Damaged Condition

Madrid, May 19.—The German submarine U-39, says an official dispatch from Cartagena, entered that port last night in a damaged condition.

The U-39, according to German advices, is the submarine that torpedoed the Lusitania off Kinsale on May 7, 1915. A dispatch from Munich, Bavaria, received in Switzerland on May 8 said that it was the U-39 that sank the British liner. On March 11, 1916, it was reported in Washington that it was the U-39 which attacked the American tanker Petrolite off the coast of Egypt in December, 1915. It is possible that the old U-39 may be out of service by this time and that her number has been taken by a new boat.

212 Unaccounted for Since Explosion at Pennsylvania Plant

Pittsburg, May 20.—Sixty-three black and charred bodies lay to-day in the temporary morgue at Oakdale, near here, where on Saturday the high explosive plant of the Aetna Chemical Company was destroyed by a series of explosions; ninety-four injured were being cared for in Pittsburg hospitals, and officials of the company said that 212 of the total working force of the factory had not yet been accounted for.

GERMAN RAIDERS KILLED THIRTY-SEVEN IN LONDON AND LOST FOUR MACHINES

London, May 20.—Thirty-seven persons were killed and 155 injured in the London area and six were injured in the southeastern counties during the raid made by German aeroplanes last night, and four of the raiding aeroplanes were brought down.

The raid was one of the most exciting which Londoners have yet experienced. As the enemy machines approached the sky was filled with bursting shrapnel. Perhaps the most dramatic moment came when the distinctive hum of one of the German machines suddenly became a splutter, and then ceased. The plane was seen to burst into flames as it fell.

After the continuous barrage died away the searchlights were turned outwards and a lone shell was sent after the retreating raiders.

Several of the German machines flew over London. Although they kept at a great height, the sound of their motors could plainly be heard from the streets. At one point a correspondent of the Associated Press viewed the spectacle when the engines were audible. The gunners blazed away in a concentrated fire. It was this unusually heavy barrage which evidently prevented the Gothas from reaching their objectives.

Calm Night.
London, May 20.—A calm summer-like night tempted the Germans, to try last night their first air raid on London since March 7, and four of the raiders fell before the defences of London.

The moon was shining brightly when the raiders crossed the southeastern coast, and headed for the metropolis. The usual warnings were given promptly, and the people had time to reach shelter before the guns in the neighborhood of London were heard. The firing was almost continuous for more than two hours, and was unusually severe. Several bombs were dropped by the raiders. The enemy aircraft seem to have been more numerous than usual.

Great Bombardment.
London, May 20.—The latest aerial attack of the Germans on London and its environs probably was the most ambitious ever undertaken. Never was there such a continued volley of firing from the British anti-aircraft guns.

Thousands of people had their first experience in a raid. They were perched on many points in England, Scotland and Wales who were taking advantage of the Whitsuntide holidays, which run from Saturday until Tuesday, to visit London. On the other hand thousands of Londoners had come to the country and seashore resorts for a brief vacation. They cut short these visits, and hurried back to London to learn the fate of their homes and relatives.

At Great Height.
Except for a few brief pauses, the gunners, blazed away with a terrific concentration of fire. The raiding Gothas flew at a great height, the majority of them keeping well up to 12,000 feet in a very clear sky.

The Whitsuntide holidays probably were responsible for the safety of scores of girls housed in dormitories recently constructed by a large departmental store. Many of them were apprentices brought from nearby towns who went home for the holidays. A bomb destroyed the two upper floors of the building, which is half a block long. The main room of the floor below was damaged, but the few girls who had taken refuge in the basement when the fire alarm was given were not injured, except one, who was wounded slightly.

Big Hole.
Another bomb tore a hole five feet deep and fifteen feet wide in a solid concrete pavement, shattering windows and wrenching doors from their hinges three blocks away. This bomb fell near buildings recently constructed to house a new war agency, but as the buildings were darkened it is not believed possible the Gothas were using them as a target. Another bomb fell in a park nearby, stripping the shrubbery and shaking houses for blocks around, shattering almost every pane of glass.

GLOOMY PICTURE OF FUTURE FOR GERMANS

Amsterdam, May 20.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.)—At a meeting of the Farmers' League of Munich, the well-known Bavarian agrarian leader, Dr. Heim, solemnly pictured the economic future of Germany, stating that the stock of cattle had been depleted and the soil exhausted. It was self-deception to believe that pre-war conditions could ever return. Rebuilding would take decades and Germany would be unable to import the goods needed. Some hope of salvation lay between free trade and compulsory state control, Dr. Heim thought.

BOLSHEVIKI TROOPS TAKE POINTS ON WEST SHORE OF CASPIAN

Amsterdam, May 20.—Russian Bolshevik troops, according to a telegram from Constantinople, have succeeded in capturing the town of Petropavlovsk, on the western shore of the Caspian Sea, two hundred miles north of Baku, and also Orenburg.

Premier Clemenceau Is Satisfied With Situation at Front

Paris, May 20.—Premier Clemenceau spent Sunday at the front. It was said to-day that he had obtained a satisfactory impression of the military situation.

IRISH CASE BEFORE LONDON CONFERENCE

Smuts Advises Ireland to Ask Imperial Conference to Solve Trouble

Glasgow, Scotland, May 20.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.)—Speaking at Glasgow University, where he received the honorary degree of D.L.D., Lieut.-General Smuts, the South African Minister of Defence, referring to Ireland, asked whether Ireland was going to be the only exception to the rest of the British Empire. The law of life admitted no exception, and it was the aim of the British Empire to solve the Irish question as it had solved the problem in South Africa. It was impossible to admit the right of anybody in the Empire to be an exception to the common obligation to fulfill the common duties in this war. In Ireland some people were talking of a republic and some were appealing to the enemy.

Ireland did not need any peace conference to have her wrongs righted. He advised her to go to the highest court of appeal in the Empire—the Imperial Conference. General Smuts, who had received a remarkable ovation on rising, alluded to the great transformation caused in South Africa by the granting of self-government. Ireland's problem had not been greater than South Africa's, he asserted. South Africa had been solved.

He was no ordinary politician. He represented the outer marches of the Empire and as such kept aloof from all local politics, developing his energy to the great task on which the future of the Empire depended.

Both a Great Man.
General Smuts referred to General Sir Louis Botha as one of the greatest men living, "who sees no small things." (Cheers.) In these days of trouble and grievance and suffering in Africa, General Botha was destined to lead the people to a higher viewpoint. The British policy of freedom and liberty had resulted in South Africa in a new nation being built up and a great white house in the flooding sunshine was being founded.

MOSCOW ANARCHISTS HAVE BEEN PUT DOWN

London, May 20.—A Reuter dispatch from Petrograd says that the anarchist movement in Moscow had been suppressed.

NEW WAR PACT REPORTED MADE BY BRITISH, ITALIAN AND FRENCH GOVERNMENTS

London, May 20.—The war treaty between France, Italy, Britain and Russia has been abrogated and replaced by a new treaty, according to The Manchester Guardian. The old treaty embodied the terms under which Italy entered the war, and The Guardian assumes that it is greatly modified by the new convention. This was the treaty which was published by the Bolshevik Government in Russia on January 26, 1918.

Leon Trotsky, who in January was the Bolshevik Foreign Minister, published secret treaties and documents from the files of the Russian Foreign Office. The one referred to in the above dispatch was signed by Sir Edward Grey, the British Minister of Foreign Affairs, and the Italian, French and Russian Ambassadors in London. It set forth in detail the territorial concessions asked by Italy before that country entered the war against the Central Powers.

ARTILLERY FIGHTING INCREASES SOUTH OF ARRAS AND VILLAGE IS CAPTURED BY THE AUSTRALIANS

ADVANCE WAS MADE MACEDONIAN FRONT

French and Italians Gained Twenty Kilometres at West End of Line

Paris, May 20.—The War Office here announced last night that French and Italian troops had made an advance of twenty kilometres (twelve and a half miles) on the western end of the Macedonian front. The text of the report follows:

"West of Koritza, between the upper Valley of the Devot and the Osium Rivers, French and Italian troops on May 16, 16 and 17 carried out with full success a series of operations for the purpose of reducing a very pronounced salient formed by positions occupied by the enemy in this region and of establishing the Allied line in more advantageous positions in the localities of Protappa and Cerevada. Notwithstanding the very great difficulties of terrain in a mountainous country without roads, and although the enemy offered vigorous resistance, making several counter-attacks, the French and Italian columns attained all their objectives.

In these operations the aerial service did brilliant work. Our troops captured a number of prisoners, their advance in the centre reaching twenty kilometres."

Enemy Craft Still Crippled as Result of Zeebrugge Attack

London, May 20.—"The recently fine weather," says an official statement issued to-day by the Admiralty, "has enabled constant air reconnaissances over Bruges and the Zeebrugge-Bruges Canal to be made and photographs to be taken. The results show that no changes have taken place since April 21 and that a greater part of the enemy's submarine and torpedo craft bases on the Flanders coast has been immobilized at Bruges since the Zeebrugge operations were carried out by our naval force."

FRENCH GOVERNMENT HONORS OFFICERS OF THE BRITISH NAVY

Paris, May 20.—Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.—The French Government has awarded the Croix de Guerre with Palmes to Vice-Admiral Keyes, Rear-Admiral Tyrwhitt and sixteen other British officers, who particularly distinguished themselves in the preparation and carrying out of the "very daring and brilliantly executed operations against Ostend and Zeebrugge."

OPTIMISM FELT AT VATICAN REGARDING ISH SITUATION

Rome, May 20.—Optimism prevails at the Vatican regarding the situation in Ireland, which greatly interests the Pope. His hope for a satisfactory solution of the Irish problem is based on reassuring news that has come to him direct, according to which the efforts of the bishops to allay the public excitement there are certain to avoid serious complications until the situation is improved sufficiently to make a conciliation effective.

AUSTRIAN EMPEROR AND EMPRESS TRAVEL TO CONSTANTINOPLE

Sofia, May 19.—Emperor Charles and Empress Zita, of Austria-Hungary, and their party, left Sofia to-day for Constantinople.

Gun Duels May Foreshadow New Enemy Thrust Between Arras and Albert; Ville-sur-Ancre and 360 Prisoners Taken From Germans by Australians

London, May 20.—Significance may attach to the reports the official reports are now carrying of heavy artillery fire in the sector between Arras and Albert, which comprises the northerly continuation of the Somme battlefield. It is along this line that many of the military observers have been qualifiedly predicting that the expected German blow will be struck.

What is known as the Arras salient, which projects from the British lines between the German salients of the Somme and the Lys, is standing in the way of a further German advance toward the coast, or the Franco-British lines of communication by cutting these lines at important points. The enemy apparently hopes to divide the two armies. The reduction of the Arras salient by a mighty blow would

SINN FEINERS TRY TO CONTINUE MOVEMENT

Have Named Two Men as New President and Vice-President

London, May 20.—Vice-President Morris and the remaining heads of the Sinn Fein organization in Ireland have issued a reply to the proclamation which the British Government published Saturday. The reply says that "anticipating such action, the standing committee of the Sinn Fein nominated substitutes to carry on the movement during the enforced, and what must be, temporary exile of our leaders."

The country may rest assured, it adds, "that no matter how many of the leaders may be arrested there will be men and women to take their places. All that we need is to follow the advice of Professor de Valera to remain calm and confident."

The Sinn Feiners have nominated Professor John McNeill and Alderman Kelly, a well-known member of the Dublin Corporation, to the places in the organization made vacant through the arrest of Professor de Valera and Arthur Griffith, president and vice-president respectively.

M. P.'s Held.
With the arrest of Count Plunkett, four of the six Sinn Fein members of Parliament are under arrest. Two others are Dr. McCarroll and Laurence Ginnell, who is serving a six-month sentence in Mount Joy Prison. Among others under arrest are Charles Collins and Christopher Mullins, who are charged with the unlawful possession of explosives at Brittas, a few miles outside Dublin. F. O'Houlihan and James O'Brien, editor and manager of The Skibbereen Southern Star, also are in custody.

Resisted.
Ted Driscoll, of Skibbereen, and five other Sinn Feiners, who were in his house, offered stout resistance to arrest. Driscoll was wounded in the arm by a revolver shot. Pierce McCann, son of Francis McCann, Justice of the Peace for Ballyowen House, Cashel, and president of the East Tipperary Sinn Fein executive committee, was arrested Saturday morning. Patrick Hogan, a local leader of the Irish Volunteers, succeeded in eluding the police at Cashel by jumping through a window and entering the grounds of a convent, from which he made his escape.

Germans Plotted.
London, May 20.—According to The Daily Mail, it has been clear for months past that Germany has been using every artifice not only to foster rebellion in Ireland, but also to use Ireland as a base of organized espionage and submarine operations against the Allied merchant marine on the Atlantic routes. It asserts that Germany sent money to the Sinn Feiners, that important information was conveyed to Germany, and that German submarines received fuel oil from Sinn Feiners.

MAJ. LUFBERY, OF U. S. FLYING CORPS, KILLED IN FRANCE

With the American Army in France, May 19.—Via London, May 20.—(By The Associated Press.)—Major Raoul Lufbery, of the American flying corps, has been killed in an aerial battle. He will be buried to-morrow with full military honors in which both American and French troops will participate. Lufbery's home was in Wallingford, Conn.

The German machine which brought Lufbery down was armed with two machine guns with an operator for each piece, and apparently escaped. Lufbery's only wound, aside from those received when he crashed to earth, was a bullet hole through the thumb. Apparently, the same bullet punctured one of the gasoline tanks of his machine.

The German machine was under heavy anti-aircraft fire several times, both before and after the air fight, and one explosion of a shell upset the enemy plane, but it managed to straighten out again.

carry the Germans far toward Doullens, eighteen miles north of Amiens and about thirteen miles west of the present fighting line. Capture of this valuable junction point would badly disrupt the Allied communication lines and such an operation would almost inevitably carry Amiens also into enemy possession. Against such a stroke the Allied leaders are reported to have forces heavily massed and to be confidently awaiting the result of a possible attack in this quarter.

Reports From Haig.
Meanwhile the British raiding activity grows more lively. Australian troops captured 360 prisoners.

London, May 20.—The German artillery developed increased activity last night along the front between Albert and Bucquoy. The War Office announced to-day in the following report:

"We captured a few prisoners yesterday as a result of a successful raid carried out in the Albert sector. A raid attempted by enemy troops north of Hingne was repulsed with heavy losses to the hostile raiding party."

"The hostile artillery activity increased considerably last night on the Albert-Bucquoy front."

Field-Marshal Haig reported last night:

"A local operation during the night at Ville-sur-Ancre, (north of Morlan-court), was completely successful. Australian troops carried the German positions in and around the village, which is now in our possession, and captured 360 prisoners and twenty machine guns. Our casualties were light."

"We carried out a series of raids on hostile posts southwest of Meteren and inflicted casualties on the garrison."

"On the remainder of the front there was only artillery activity on both sides of the different sectors."

Prisoners Taken.
Field-Marshal Haig reported yesterday afternoon:

"A minor enterprise was successfully undertaken by us last night in the neighborhood of Ville-sur-Ancre, near Morlan-court. Our positions in this locality have been improved, and a number of prisoners and machine guns have been captured by our troops."

"Successful raids in which we captured a few prisoners and four machine guns were carried out by us also northwest of Albert and in the neighborhood of Hamel."

A raid attempted by enemy troops northeast of Becourt was repulsed by our fire before reaching our lines."

French Reports.
Paris, May 20.—Active artillery fighting near Hangard, on the front near Amiens, is reported in to-day's official statement.

Northwest of Rheims a French detachment penetrated to the German third line, taking prisoners.

An official report issued last night said:

"There is nothing to report except intermittent artillery activity north and south of the Avre (on the front below Amiens)."

Raids and Gun Duels.
An official statement issued yesterday afternoon said:

"The artillery on both sides was active north of the Avre. French patrols were active in the sector of Hangard and captured prisoners."

"Enemy surprise attacks against our positions in the region of the lower Alliette, in the Argonne, and in the Woerps were broken up by our fire. We brought back prisoners in raids east of Rheims. There is nothing to report on the remainder of the front."

German Statement.
Berlin, May 19.—Via London, May 20. An official communication issued here to-night says:

"West of Hullech the British attacked with several companies but were repulsed with heavy losses."

"Between Arras and Albert the enemy was especially active and our batteries were many times subjected to a violent fire."

GERMAN PLANE BAGGED
BY AMERICAN AIRMAN

With the American Army in France, May 19.—Via London, May 20.—(By The Associated Press.)—The German plane brought down yesterday by Capt. David Peterson, of Hopedale, Pa.—his third since May 15—was captured after a fight five kilometres within the German lines. Peterson and another pilot came upon two enemy machines, one 2,000 metres high and the other 3,000. The Americans each picked out an enemy aeroplane and attacked it. Capt. Peterson, diving on the tail of the one 2,000 metres high, fired thirty shots at close range. The enemy craft went into a spinning nose dive and crashed to earth. The other enemy machine escaped.

TWO ORDAINED.

Amsterdam, May 20.—(Via Reuter's

commenting on the new Alkanatara Bridge over the Suez Canal, says that as a whole Great Britain's campaign in Mesopotamia and Palestine has been far from being a failure. The new bridge joins Africa and Asia, and it must be admitted that it facilitates the transport of supplies to Palestine, says
this German newspaper.

Darby, M. D., a medical missionary at

CAUGHT IN BOAT NEAR KINGSTOWN

Man Jailed for Having Papers Telling of German Raids
on London

London, May 20.—James Cotter, of London, and Richard Cotter, Gaelic League organizer in Dublin, were arrested and charged under the Defence of the Realm Act with taking a boat within fifteen miles of the Kingstown pier on April 15, that being a prohibited area. James Cotter was further charged with collecting information which might be useful to the enemy.
James Cotter was sentenced to six months' imprisonment and Richard Cotter was discharged.

It is not stated whether this case has any connection with the Irish conspiracy.
According to the prosecuting attorney the Cotters were found at midnight in a boat outside Kingstown Harbor, their whereabouts being discovered by their burning some papers.
James Cotter had in his possession a document bearing on the raids on London, the suggestion being that he intended to convey this to the enemy.

MEAT RATION IS MADE LARGER IN UNITED KINGDOM

tawa Agency.)—The Ministry of Food has announced that owing to larger arrivals of frozen meat, eightpence

AUSTRIAN STATEMENT.

Vienna, May 19.—(Via London, May 20.)—The official statement from Austro-Hungarian headquarters today reads: "Reciprocal reconnoitring activity on the Tyrol front, and in the Vincennes Mountains led to fighting favorable to us. East of Monte Pertico (east of the Brenna) the enemy was repulsed twice in hand-to-hand fighting."

TWENTY-ONE ENEMY PLANES WERE BAGGED

British Airmen Were Busy Saturday; Another Raid on Zeebrugge

London, May 20.—In aerial fighting on the Western front Saturday, twenty-one German aeroplanes were destroyed and two disabled by British aviators.
An official report on aerial operations issued here last night also reported continuation of the bombing of enemy railway stations, aerodromes, ammunition dumps and billets, as well as a raid on the submarine base at Zeebrugge. The text of the statement follows:

"Saturday was another fine day and enabled us to carry out bombing, re-connoitring, photography and fighting.
The improved visibility facilitated more work in conjunction with the artillery than had been possible recently.
The railway stations at Courtrai, Valenciennes, Roulers and Chaulnes were bombarded heavily. Several enemy aerodromes, ammunition dumps and billets also were attacked. Over nineteen tons of bombs were dropped on these targets. The greater part of the fighting occurred well east of the enemy lines. Twenty-one hostile machines were brought down and two others were disabled. Eight of our machines are missing.

"Although our bombing machines were able to work only half the night owing to a thick mist which blew in from the sea, they dropped ten tons of bombs on the Marcoing, Haubourdin, Douai and Chaulnes railway stations, on billets in the neighborhood of Ba-paume and Bray and on the Solway works and the lock gates at Zeebrugge.
One of our machines failed to return.

Raid on Cologne.

London, May 20.—Fourteen persons were killed and more than forty were injured when German aeroplanes raided Cologne on Saturday, according to a dispatch from Amsterdam to the Central News Agency. Six Allied aviators took part in the raid. Much damage was done in the centre of Cologne, especially in the market place.

POSTHUMOUS AWARD
OF VICTORIA CROSS

London, May 20.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.)—The London Gazette states that the Victoria Cross has been posthumously awarded to Seaman J. H.
Carles, killed in action at Heligoland on November 18, 1917. Although mortally wounded in the abdomen, he continued to serve his gun, acting as rammer, lifting projectiles and helping to clear away the other gunnaries. He collapsed once but got up and tried again, cheering on the new crew. He then fell and died, having set a very inspiring and memorable example by continuing to do effective work against the enemies of the King while mortally wounded.

GERMANS STILL ARE NURSING WOUNDS

Leaders Hold Back Attack in Hope Offensive Spirit
Will Return

With the French Army in France,
May 19.—(Via London, May 20.)—(By the Associated Press.)—The Germans apparently are awaiting the return of the offensive spirit among some of their best divisions, severely tried during the first stages of the offensive, before reopening operations.
Large numbers of their units lost considerable portions of their effectiveness in the heavy fighting in Picardy and Flanders and in spite of the fact that their ranks were filled immediately from depots in the rear strong impressions of the terrific ordeal through which they passed still are retained by them. Most of these shattered divisions have had only three or four weeks' rest since, which experience has demonstrated is hardly sufficient time in which to restore fighting qualities.
The German command knows this perfectly well and therefore is holding back as long as possible before attacking so as to have more recuperated units available to add to those which have not participated in the fighting up to this time.

Enemy's Plan.

It seems to be indicated clearly that the plan of the German offensive, says an official note issued here, is to commence heavy fighting again will be a desperate effort to divide the Allied armies by assaulting the lines of communication. It seems probable, too, that they must even extend the battle-front farther south and east toward the lines between Noyon and Rheims, where the front is well served by railroads, which would enable them to attempt a surprise on the Allies by making a big demonstration there with the intention of attracting General Foch's reserves while they carry out their main effort farther north.

The Allies, however, are well prepared for eventualities. The Americans are working in the greatest harmony with both the French and British and the most complete concert reigns among officers and men in all the Allied armies.

Wilson to the French.

Paris, May 20.—On the eve of the renewal of the German offensive, says
an official note issued here, President Wilson, anxious to address a message to the French people, has asked one of his personal friends, James Kearney (director of the Franco-American Committee on Public Information), to convey the following:

"The people of the United States are happy to find themselves in a brotherhood of arms with the people of France in a war in which every man who moves right ought to be proud to take part."

FOOD SITUATION IN RUSSIA GROWS WORSE

Petrograd Without Bread; No
Promise of an Early Improvement

Moscow, May 16.—(Delayed.)—The food situation in Petrograd and the other large cities of Russia, instead of improving with the advent of spring and river navigation, is constantly growing worse.
The bread ration in Petrograd, which has been one-eighth of a pound weekly, is now totally exhausted. Other products are scarce.
In Moscow the food situation is somewhat better. The bread ration is a quarter of a pound and other food is obtainable at higher prices. Sugar is scarce.

Conditions in the country generally do not promise an improvement in the food situation in the near future.

A GOOD RECRUITING WEEK IN AUSTRALIA

Melbourne, May 20.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.)—The latest figures show that last week's total enlistments in Australia were the highest since April of last year. They also exceeded the weekly quota of men required.

The Acting Prime Minister, addressing the conference of Premiers, said that the Commonwealth Government during the next few months would ask the people to bear heavy additional taxation.

"It Freed Me of Headaches"

This is What Many Thousands of People Write About Dr.
Chase's Nerve Food—Not Mere Relief, But Lasting Cure.

Chauvin, Alta., May 20.—When the human system gets run down, the blood thin and the nerves exhausted, one of the most constant and distressing symptoms is headache. There is always a temptation to use strong drugs to ease the pain, but such relief is only temporary, and is obtained at enormous expense to the nervous system, and the headaches return with increased violence.

Real cure is only obtained when the vigor of the nervous system is restored by such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mr. Rene Page, Chauvin, Alta., writes:
"I have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, with splendid results. Some little time ago I seemed to lose my appetite, and suffered from frequent headaches. A treatment of the Nerve Food soon put me on my feet again. It helped my appetite, freed me from headaches, and restored my health. I feel like a new man now, and think Dr. Chase's Nerve Food the greatest remedy ever known.
I also have to thank Dr. Chase's Ointment for a speedy cure of barber's itch.
I have used it for pimples and burns,
too."

Certified to by Leger E. Roy, J. P., Chauvin, Alta.

Mrs. C. H. Christoffer, Greenbrier, Sask., writes:
"It is a pleasure to me to write you in praise of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.
I suffered for over twenty years from rheumatism, neuralgia, violent headaches and palpitation of the heart. My back ached, I could not sleep, and was always tired and nervous. I had taken many many medicines of one kind and another, but never got anything to help me until I used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This did me more good than all the medicines I ever took, and I cannot say enough in praise of it."

This letter is endorsed by Mr. J. C.
Bleich, Postmaster at Greenbrier, Sask.

LOSS OF LIFE IN NEBRASKA TORNADO

Storm Saturday Night Killed Twelve Persons and Injured Twenty-Five

Bloomfield, Nebr., May 20.—Twelve persons killed, mostly children, and twenty-five injured, some dangerously, is the human toll of the tornado that swept this portion of Nebraska Saturday night. The dead include Mrs. Herman Haggas and one child, five children at the Spinner place and one child at the Pieper farm. Mrs. August Frederickson and one child were instantly killed.
Mr. Frederickson and a baby seven months old died Sunday afternoon.
One child seven years old is the only survivor of the family. The five Spinner children were instantly killed and their father's legs were so badly mangled that it was necessary to amputate them. Both legs were broken in several places and a scantling driven through one leg.

The storm left scores of demolished homes, barns and other buildings in its wake. It is feared later details will swell the death list.
Mrs. Herman Haggas and one child were killed in the destruction of the residence of Herman Haggas. The Pieper place was demolished and a child of the family killed.

The tornado was accompanied by hail and heavy rain.

GERMAN YOKE ON UKRAINE IS HEAVY

Exasperated People Are Bitterly Opposing Theft of Food
by Germans

London, May 20.—The ruthless methods of the Germans in attempting to gather foodstuffs in the Ukraine are meeting with bitter opposition from the exasperated people, according to a Russian Government wireless message received here. District assemblies throughout the Ukraine decided to burn all bread and other provisions. The landowners were declared to be outcasts.

Twenty thousand peasants attempted to hold an assembly of their own in Kiev, but they were dispersed by the Germans.

General Skoropauski, the self-appointed Hetman, has been declared an impostor by many Ukrainian organizations and the people have been urged to disregard his decrees. Except for his bodyguard of 100 men, the Hetman is said to have no troops at his disposal.

Everywhere the Germans are appointing their own officials, while the country is groaning from hunger and misery and even slavery. The Russian statement says that thousands are attempting to flee to Great Russia. The members of the Rada are regarded as traitors. Almost the entire population is armed. Attempts by the Germans to disarm them are meeting with deadly results. Towns and villages are reported to have been burned.

The Germans, the statement adds, are exporting to Germany all the provisions they can lay hands on, but there are no imports into the Ukraine. All the towns, villages and railway stations and cars are in darkness, as there is no petroleum or candles.

MONTANA RANCHERS SAY WOLVES BUSY

Plains, Mont., May 20.—Thompson River ranchers report that wolves, from which there has been little trouble in that district for years, are active again and have destroyed numerous sheep.

Mountain lions had been blamed for the losses, but when a determined effort was made to corral the robbers they were found to be wolves.

ONE MAN LOST WHEN AMERICAN SHIP SUNK

Washington, May 20.—The American cargo steamer J. G. McCullough has been sunk by a mine or torpedo in foreign waters, the Navy Department was advised to-day. It was reported that all hands were saved except Engineer Daughtry.

HON. C. VAUGHAN IS ON THIS COAST NOW

Ex-Premier of South Australia
Has Been Speaking in States

Vancouver, May 20.—Hon. Crawford Vaughan, former Premier of South Australia, who has been in the United States for the past five months at the request of the Government of that country and the British war authorities, is in Vancouver. The special work of the distinguished Australian is to act as counter-propaganda speaker to the secret propaganda of the Germans, and more especially in the shipyards, to build up the morale of the workers and get the greatest tonnage launched.

"One effect of the propaganda," said he, "has been that there has not been a strike in the shipyards in the United States in consequence in the past four months, and any man who now talks strike is regarded by the other men as an emissary of the Kaiser. Our work is not confined alone to the shipyards, but we enlist the co-operation of chambers of commerce and other public bodies in aid of this very essential war need."

U. S. TROOPS STEADILY ARRIVING IN FRANCE

Great Training Camps Come Into Existence in Northern France

British Headquarters in France, May 20.—(By Reuters.)—Parts of Northern France have become within a short period thickly populated with American fighting troops and great American training camps and depots are springing up where before two months ago only British soldiers were seen. Intensified training is being tirelessly carried out in common with the training of new British and French troops. Large formations are steadily being drafted to augment the American units along the fighting line and these are all being replaced by still larger numbers.

A BRANTFORD DEATH.

Brantford, Ont., May 20.—J. J. Cunningham, retired assistant general freight agent of the G. T. R., died at his home here yesterday. He came from Montreal about four years ago and was well-known in railway circles all over the country.

ENEMY AIR SERVICE NOW DETERIORATING

Captured German Pilot Says
Allies' Superiority Realized
in German Army

British Headquarters in France, May 20.—(Via Reuters.)—One of the most striking features of the present phase of the war is the skill of our airmen. A German officer pilot recently taken prisoner says this superiority is fully realized throughout the German army and is regarded with grave concern.

The morale of the enemy service is lower than it has ever been. The quality of the materials supplied often shows great deterioration. Many of the new machines are built of tubing and the wire is of poor quality, resulting in increasingly frequent mishaps. These damaged machines are sent back to Germany and patched up for use in instruction schools, and often are involved in accidents. The pilot doubted whether thirty per cent. of the school aspirants ever got to the front.

So great is the shortage of officers that private soldiers are being trained in Germany as observers.

BREAD RATION IN GERMANY REDUCED

People's Power of Resistance
Will Decrease; Fewer Swine
and Cattle

Amsterdam, May 20.—In commenting on the reduction of the bread rations in Germany, from 200 to 150 grams (5.6 ounces) daily, the Socialist newspaper Vorwarts, of Berlin, says: "The physical and moral power of the people for resistance are visibly diminished by these new privations."

Swine and Cattle.—The number of swine in Germany is under 6,000,000, as compared with 33,000,000 a year ago, says The Koenigsche Volks Zeitung, a copy of which has been received here. "Although there are still 19,000,000 cattle, their slaughter weight is now greatly reduced as compared with a year ago," the newspaper adds.

"You also have secured a very valuable ally," he stated, "because whereas South Africa might have been a source of danger and weakness and dissension, she has become a source of strength. The armies of my native country, consisting of British and Boer alike, have captured in this war more German territory than all the other armies of all the Allies together. (Cheers.) They have swept the German flag from the whole of the African continent, and near here on the battlefield of France they have distinguished themselves in a way which has appealed to the whole British Empire and the world."

General Smuts said he was glad to think that the South Africans on the Western front had been especially associated with the Scottish troops.

British Empire's Part.

After paying a high tribute to the soldiers of the other Dominions in France, General Smuts proceeded to say that the British Empire was going to be the nucleus of the great league of nations which was being planned. This league had asked for precedents to guide it, and the greatest of precedents would be the system of free nations within the British Empire. The latter's free institutions and self-government would, extended and developed, become the basis of that larger system on which the future liberty and development of the world would be founded.

Was Ireland going to be the exception? (Hisses.) The law of life admitted no exceptions. He was sure it was the mission of the Empire, which had solved the case of South Africa, to solve the dreary case of Ireland. All over the world Irishmen were found to be in the van. Only in their beautiful homeland there were nothing but failures, grievances and disasters. Let them see if the ideals, principles and traditions of the British Empire could not be safely applied to the case of Ireland and remove this skeleton from the cupboard. Speeches had been made in Ireland by apparently sane and wise men, but which were absolutely hysterical. Some had been talking of a republic and some wanted to appeal to the enemy. Others wanted the wrongs righted at a peace conference after the war. But all that was unnecessary in Ireland, which belonged to a group of nations and was herself a nation which had solved her political troubles in the past and was capable of solving her troubles again. If she was unable to do her duty and set her house in order and remove from herself the stigma that she alone in the Empire to-day in this hour of bitter trial was standing aloof and not doing her duty, he would ask her to appeal to the highest court of appeal in the British Empire—the Imperial Conference. The day might come when a body like that representing the whole Empire might have to take a case like this and deal with it on wise and broad lines. But he would not admit the right of anybody to be an exception to a common obligation and the common duties of the common Empire. He was sure that if a large-hearted and wise statesman like Mr. Lloyd George would adopt this method of dealing with this problem it would not be insoluble.

Addressed Shipbuilders.

General Smuts toured several shipyards and engineering shops, and also addressed a gathering of workers in the Fairfield yard during the breakfast interval Saturday, being accorded a splendid reception.

The enemy, said General Smuts, was now delivering his greatest blow. He had achieved success that few thought possible at the beginning of the present offensive, but he had not gone all the way and he never would. The reverses the British had suffered had, in a sense, been very good for them. There had been a lot of foolish talk about beating the Boche and at the same time enjoying all the privileges of peace times. The Boche had knocked that nonsense out of the heads of the British.

"We are now into the war up to the neck," continued the general, "and have to strain every nerve to win. If we do that the result will be certain. The enemy has made us realize the great dangers ahead of civilization. The Americans have now fully realized this and are coming over in tens of thousands monthly to bear their fair share in the struggle."

The speaker said that he knew all the workers were feeling the heavy burdens, but it was better to live in these times than in ordinary times, when nothing really happened. On the other hand, to-day great issues were at stake and if they did their duty they might look forward to great good. Civilization had been worked up to a point where the struggle was worthy of the highest and most concentrated effort and he appealed to them to make it.

General Smuts addressed another large gathering of workers in the yard of Brown & Company. Referring to the necessity of breaking the military power of Germany to prevent future wars, he said no improvement would be possible in the lot of man so long as his children were driven to the slaughter and he had to work year after year to be food for powder. The enemy now was attempting by one of his gigantic blows to break the resistance of the Allies and emerge the great dominating military power of the world.

"Let him strike," declared General Smuts. "We will stand in the breach like a wall of iron and allow him to kick himself to pieces. Then his spirit will break and he will see that it is impossible to win."

"It will not be necessary for the Allies to march to Berlin in order to annihilate the Boches. That sort of victory, even if it were possible, is entirely unnecessary. We stand on the defence resolutely, calmly and confidently and shall win. We want no indemnities and no annexations. We are fighting for the rights of nations, large and small—for peace and security."

RETURN OF THE MAYFLOWER.

Around three centuries ago the British Isles began to be represented in the settlement of the New World by two types of their people. One class, the Mayflower Puritans and their descendants, made their homes in what became known as New England; the second element, the gay cavaliers, the gentlemen adventurers of the school of Drake, Froisher and Raleigh betook themselves to the more congenial clime in the south, in Virginia, the Carolinas and the other states which years later flourished for a brief spell as the Southern Confederacy. Each class gave a character to its adopted home which stood the assaults of time, new customs and ideas, and each developed according to its light and leading. Each was loyal to the land from which it sprang, and the same flag waved over the austere, resolute New Englander and the dashing, high-spirited southerner alike.

Then came the break between the two worlds. The tyranny of a mad monarch of Prussian birth and ideals, encouraged by an equally mad coterie of advisers drew the descendants of Pilgrims and cavaliers together to fight for the right to govern themselves in their own way, to tax themselves as they liked, to spend their money as they liked, to trade with whom they liked and even to fight one another as they liked. Shoulder to shoulder northerners and southerners fought for seven years. The Whitehall bureaucracy enlisted the aid of mercenaries from Hesse; Lafayette and Rochambeau came from France to assist the colonists. From out of that conflict arose the United States of America. But the union was not complete; shortly afterwards north and south developed differences which eventually flared up in the worst civil war in human history.

Now, northerner and southerner, Puritan and cavalier are pouring across the Atlantic hundreds of thousands to draw their blades for the principles upon which their mighty republic stands, and which their ancestors brought from the "mother of free nations." Back they are going to stand alongside their blood-brothers of Britain and their foster-brothers of France for those institutions of liberty and justice and humanity which are their common heritage.

A little over a week ago several thousand men of the strain of the Washingtons, the Franklins, the Lees, the Jacksons and the Livingstones, not to speak of the Kossuths, the Garibaldis and liberty-loving champions of other lands, marched through the streets of London to a roar of welcome which thrilled them through and through. Over half a million more of them are in France, and no limit has been fixed upon the number which will be sent across the seas to help their allies make the "world safe for democracy." But there was a deeper note in the reception in London last week than has been heard in similar demonstrations there. It reflected the heart-felt realization by the British people that the same spirit, born on British soil, which sent Britons forth three centuries ago to brave the dangers of the American wilderness, is spurring untold millions of the great American nation to share with them the suffering and sacrifice involved in the defeat of Prussian autocracy. The Mayflower has come back again.

THE PRESIDENT'S SPEECH.

President Wilson's speech in New York on Saturday reaffirmed three principles of policy which had been announced in other utterances and messages, but never more emphatically than on this occasion. The Congress of the United States, he says, has been asked to name no limit on the number of men to be sent across the Atlantic and "every ship that can carry men or supplies shall go laden with every man and every supply she can carry." As there are now some 6,000,000 tons of ships under the American flag and new vessels are being launched at the rate of 250,000 tons a month the value of the President's assurance at once becomes manifest. We are safe in predicting the transportation of 200,000 American troops a month across the Atlantic before the summer is over.

The second principle of policy emphasized again by the President is the determination of the republic to allow no insincere peace approaches to divert it from its intention of winning the war. In this he serves notice on the German Government that it is wasting its time in trying to entrap an intelligence much superior to its own into another Brest-Litovsk convention. The United States, like Great Britain and her Allies, will consider peace proposals only when they come from accredited representatives of the German people who are capable of respecting the binding quality of a treaty.

The President's third principle is his determination to stand by Russia. But just how far the United States will be permitted to do this will depend upon the extent to which developments of the last six months have driven sanity into the heads of the Russian leaders. If the loss of a third of the Russian population to Prussian domination, the German conquest of Finland, the Ottoman penetration into trans-Caucasia, the loss of the Black Sea Fleet and the occupation of Viborg thirty-five miles northwest of Petrograd, not to speak of anarchy and the demoralization of industry, have thrown a little light into the Soviet leaders, the President will be able to translate his good intention into beneficial action. One of the first things Lenin, Trotsky & Co. did was to stop the work of reorganizing the transportation system of Russia then being carried out by J. F. Stevens and other American engineers, on the ground that "free Russia" could not accept any assistance from representatives of the "bourgeoisie and imperialistic Government of Washington." As to the first two principles of the Washington policy we have mentioned there can be no uncertainty. What will happen to the third will depend upon Russia. It is inconceivable to us that the race from which Serbia sprang and which in this war has produced women's "battalions of death," can continue to be the plaything of the men who deliberately have led their country to ruin.

SMUTS AND SOUTH AFRICA.

The pride of General Smuts in the war record of South Africa is shared by the entire Empire. The Union forces, he says, have captured more hostile territory than all the other Allied armies together, having virtually driven the German flag from the whole of Africa. In France their record has been equally notable.

The South African forces comprise British and Boers, who less than eighteen years ago were at war with one another. And that war was not the first conflict between the two races; it was the culmination of a feud of many years' standing. The man who succeeded Joubert as commander-in-chief of the Boer army is now the Premier, while another prominent enemy leader of eighteen years ago is none other than General Smuts himself, a soldier-statesman of such pre-eminent talents and ability that his presence is required permanently at the Empire's centre.

South Africa has more than justified the faith, sagacity and boldness of Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman in giving self-government to the southern colonies within less than four years of the termination of hostilities. And it has confounded the woe-ful prophecies of not a few prominent British statesmen, including Mr. Balfour, who declared that self-government in South Africa meant the separation of that region from the Empire. Judging from the sequel, had it not been for the wise policy of the Campbell-Bannerman Government, in all probability a different flag would be flying over South Africa to-day, and the Germans would still be masters of Southwest Africa and East Africa, and possibly considerably more.

General Smuts says the Irish problem is not more difficult than the South Africa problem was. In one way it is and in another it is not. The South African situation was more difficult in the sense that it was far distant and that all the bitterness of four years of war was still at white heat. But if Ireland were six thousand miles distant from Great Britain her problem would have been solved long ago and by the same means that the South African problem, and before that, the Canadian problem, was solved. The curse of the Irish question is that it was allowed to become a football of party politics in England, and a symbol of the age-long struggle between special privilege and democracy.

The Berlin announcement that the bread ration has been reduced to five and three-fifths ounces indicates that the supply of grain from the Ukraine and Roumania was not sufficient even to maintain the ration at its former low level. And there is no likelihood of the situation being bettered, for German occupation of the Ukraine creates fresh anti-German sentiment there every day. The Prussianized German simply cannot help making himself loathed. The process is dangerous in the Ukraine, for Germany has less than 600,000 men on her whole East Front and they are very inferior material at that.

Furniture and other goods stolen from France and Belgium are being sold in Scandinavia by the Huns. If the Scandinavians know where the goods come from they make themselves as bad as the Germans when they buy them. Even under Scandinavian law the receiver of stolen goods is regarded as equally guilty with the thief.

In its cartoon series of "Deeds That Should Have Won the Victoria Cross," Punch pictures the private who grew a longer moustache than the drill-sergeant. What about the brave souls who wore straw hats last week?

The object of the raid on London last night no doubt was to divert British aviators from the battlefield, where they and their allies have established a supremacy which is constantly growing.

LONG ON WORDS, SHORT ON DEEDS.

(New York World.)
 A strange thing about the war is the fact that the men who tell us every day that deeds and not words are necessary are the most loquacious of all our people—always on dress parade at banquets and always in the front rank among those present at every other talk-fest.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT JAMES ISLAND WORKS

Returned Soldier, E. W. Appleby, Killed by Explosion of Acid Yesterday

A man named E. W. Appleby was killed on James Island yesterday, and the police are now in search of his wife, whose only available address is Mrs. F. M. Appleby, General Delivery, Victoria, B. C., in order that she may be apprized of the sad news. Appleby is supposed to be about forty-one years of age, and it is believed that he has a number of children.

The deceased was employed at the works of the Canadian Explosives, Ltd. It appears that he split some highly explosive acid on the floor, and not realising his danger, attempted to clean it up with water. Immediately the water touched the acid there was an explosion, and the man was burned and overcome by the deadly fumes, from the effects of which he died during the afternoon.

Appleby previously was a soldier, and had only recently been given his discharge as medically unfit. He was engaged in the acid department of the works on James Island, and it is thought that possibly a man of ordinary health would have survived the accident, but owing to Appleby's weak condition he succumbed to the effects of the fumes.

A post mortem will be held at 10.30 to-morrow morning, and it is thought that possibly an inquest will be found to be unnecessary. The body has been taken to the Thomson Undertaking Parlors.

FIRE SITUATION IS WELL UNDER CONTROL

Information Reaching Lands Department, Says Conditions Satisfactory

The general rainfall during the latter end of last week in various sections of the Province has materially assisted the fire situation according to telegraphic reports reaching the Forest Branch of the Department of Lands this morning.

Twenty-three fires are recorded in the Nelson district with hot and windy conditions obtaining early in the week. Two outbreaks required a nominal expenditure before they were brought under control. One new fire is reported from the Cranbrook section with the general situation perfectly safe.

Moderate rain fell on Wednesday last throughout the Vernon district, and although thirteen fires are reported to date, the damage has been small. With the exception of Wednesday the conditions are reported as hot and clear and vegetation dry; the situation, however, is regarded as satisfactory.

Weather favorable and no fires constitutes the gist of the report from the Prince Rupert district. The thirteen fires reported from the Fort George district have been subdued, additional cost to the Department only being necessary in one case. Until towards the end of the week conditions were hot and clear with vegetation very dry. In the Vancouver district twelve fires are reported, all of which are now under control, and aided considerably by the heavy rains during the latter end of the week. The cost to the Forest branch in fighting fires in the coast district amounts so far to $1,900.

FOR SPECIAL TRAINING

Mrs. G. Lake and Miss Orwin Accepted for Special V. A. D. Course at Toronto.

Two well-known Victoria women, Mrs. G. Lake and Miss E. K. Orwin, have been accepted to go to Hart School, Toronto, to take the training course of orthopedics and physiotherapy, according to word which has just been received by Mrs. Chas. E. Wilson, Superintendent of the Victoria Central Nursing Division, No. 24, V. A. D. The class is to begin shortly, and Mrs. Lake and Miss Orwin are waiting to receive their instructions to proceed to the East.

Mrs. Lake, whose husband, Capt. G. Lake, is in command of a submarine in the Atlantic service, has been one of the prominent workers of the I. O. D. E. For some time she was treasurer of the Esquimalt Chapter, and lately has been making trench candles for the Comforts department of the Order. Miss Orwin is one of the original members of the Victoria division of the V. A. D., she with Mrs. Kennedy and Miss Aston being the resident V. A. D.'s when the Victoria House was used as an auxiliary Hospital for the 103rd Battalion when that unit was stationed at the Willows camp.

The course of training occupies about three months, after which the successful candidates have to give a year's voluntary service in the military hospitals of the district from which they have been sent. The training is given free, on this understanding:

A PASSING SHADOW.

Just a little passing shadow,
 And the light went from the day.
 Just a tiny rose-grown cottage,
 There that shadow found its way.
 Just a great, unthoughted longing,
 And the blinding tears will fall.
 Just a heart, 'twas well-nigh broken,
 Then God's rainbow over all.

Just a soul that gleaned the meaning
 Of God's message in the sky.
 Just a life that breathed the beauty
 From the rainbow ere it died.
 And the shadow now is fading,
 There's a silver gleam at dawn.
 God's own promise in the rainbow,
 Lo! behold a perfect morn.
 LAURA LEWIN.

Food Cases Remanded.—Two prosecutions under the food regulations of the Canada Food Board, affecting the wastage of food, will be heard on Wednesday in the City Police Court. The allegations concern the B. Wilson Company, and F. R. Stewart & Co., both wholesale dealers. When called in court to-day Magistrate Jay remanded both charges.

CIVIC EMPLOYEES HAVE PREPARED CASE

Will Be Presented to Aldermen This Evening Complying With Statute

The Civic Employees' Protective Association plans to file with the aldermen this evening the statement required under the Industrial Disputes Act setting out the history of negotiations, and the circumstances leading up to the application to the Federal Department of Labor. A week ago the Council evaded the notice of such an application by referring the subject to a committee of the whole which has not yet held a sitting. On Friday the Council was informed that the employees intended to go forward with the effort and to-day's action is the sequel. A Board of Conciliation is requested.

In view of the fact that the Trades and Labor Council has asked permission to support the firemen's request for a fifteen per cent increase in the form of a deputation (it has already taken the course for the employees) the question of wages promises to occupy a large share in Council business this evening.

PARK IMPROVEMENTS

The playground area at the Songhees park is almost finished, and is certainly a most creditable job, the men under Supt. Purdy having carried out a scheme using to the best advantage the sum voted for grading purposes. It is the intention to plant trees at the corner of Alston Street and Esquimalt Road at the right season. As the City lease does not follow the line of the road, a triangular piece of property belonging to the Government intervenes between the park area and Esquimalt Road, which also ought to be planted with deciduous trees to make the whole development plan true to proper artistic proportion.

Work started to-day in opening trails at Mount Douglas Park. The caretaker is doing some improvement work anticipatory of the approaching holiday.

would be a calamity. To withhold music from the home would be a tragedy.

To-day music is doing its part, in feeding the soul of the Allies and vitalizing the spirit of her sons and daughters—in soothing tensed nerves—in sustaining the pitch of efficient living and doing—in keeping the world from falling below present standards and keeping it up to higher standards—in helping to save the world for democracy.

A BEDTIME STORY

UNCLE WIGGILY AND SAMMIE'S TENT

Copyright, 1918, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate
(By Howard R. Garis.)

When Uncle Wiggily Longears, the rabbit gentleman, was coming along through the woods one day, having been to the candy store to get some new red lollypop paint for his hollow stump bungalow, he met Sammie Little, the bunny boy. Sammie's face had a very unhappy and unpleasant look on it.

"What's the matter, Sammie?" asked Uncle Wiggily, carefully setting down his pot of paint so none of it would get on his whiskers. "What's the matter?"

"Oh—nothing," said the rabbit boy, sort of casual and indifferent like.

But Uncle Wiggily knew better. He could tell by looking at Sammie Little, that something had gone wrong. But Uncle Wiggily also knew better than to keep on asking questions.

Sometimes, when little rabbit bunny boys get cross and stick out their lips and don't twinkle their pink noses as they ought to, you can tell that something is wrong without asking them what it is. Uncle Wiggily was this way with Sammie.

"Well, good-by, my little rabbit nephew," said the bunny uncle, as he picked up his pot of red lollypop paint and started off through the woods again. "Good-bye and good luck."

Sammie only sort of grumbled an answer and went on scuffling his feet in the leaves. It wasn't a bit nice of him, was it?

"I'll just stop at Sammie's underground burrow house and find out what the matter is," said Uncle Wiggily to himself. "His mother will be sure to know, and perhaps I can help Sammie out of the trouble he seems to be in. That's what I'll do."

So, on his way to his own hollow stump bungalow, Mr. Longears stopped at Sammie's house.

"Oh, that rabbit boy!" exclaimed his mother. "I don't know what has come over him lately. He's been teasing and teasing and teasing for a tent, and, because I can't make him one and because his father can't buy him one, Sammie is sort of peeved and complaining like."

"That's too bad," said Uncle Wiggily. "Why doesn't Sammie try to make himself a tent? It's a good thing for rabbit boys and girls to try to make playthings for themselves when there is no money to buy them, and especially in war times they should learn to do this. Why doesn't Sammie make himself a tent?"

"Well, I s'pose he ought to," said Mrs. Little. "But I don't believe he knows how, or else he hasn't thought of it. He's crazy to play soldier boy and he wants a tent to sit in. Just because I couldn't get him one he went off in the woods."

"Yes, I just met him and I wondered what was the matter," said the bunny uncle. "Well, I'll just teach Sammie a little lesson. I'll make him a tent myself!"

"How?" asked Mrs. Little. "I'll show you," answered Mr. Longears. "Here comes Sammie back now. Don't say a word to him, but you just give me the things I ask you for. I'll make the tent."

So, when Sammie came along, still shuffling his paws, Uncle Wiggily set down the pot of red lollypop paint, and, pretending not to see the rabbit boy, he called:

"Mrs. Little, have you a lot of old, big, outside cabbage leaves?"

"Plenty," said the rabbit lady. "Then please bring them to me, and also some string," said the rabbit gentleman. And, when he had the big cabbage leaves, he tied the tops of them around the end of a pole he stuck up in the ground. And the cabbage leaves tied around the pole made just the nicest tent you could imagine!

"And the best part of it is," said

BRITISH OFFICER AND VICTORIA GIRL WED

Miss Edna Appleby Married to Lieut. Hugh Lowder on Saturday

Christ Church Cathedral was the scene of a very pretty military wedding on Saturday at 2.30, when Edna Appleby, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer Appleby, of 516 Linden Avenue, granddaughter of the late Canon Appleby, of St. David's, Pembroke, South Wales, and the late George Appleby, of Victoria, was married to Hugh Gordon Lowder, lieutenant in the 3rd Battalion the King's (Shropshire) Light Infantry, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Gordon Lowder, of Tunbridge Wells, Sussex, England. The church had been beautifully decorated by Mrs. Harry Pooley and other friends of the bride, with white lilies, iris and palms, the bride and groom standing beneath an arch of white lilies, "bridal wreath," clematis and narcissus during the ceremony. A big congregation of friends of the young couple witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. W. Baugh Allen, assisted by the Dean of Columbia.

The bride, who entered the church on her father's arm was met at the door by the choir, who preceded her up the aisle singing "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden." She made a lovely picture in her beautiful wedding-gown of silk net with underskirt of silver lace, the bodice adorned with a handsome Honiton lace collar which had been worn by her mother at her wedding. The train was of silver brocade caught at shoulder and waist with orange blossoms, while her veil was becomingly arranged under a Juliet cap of orange blossoms. She carried a sheaf of calla lilies and lilies of the valley, and a gold and white vellum-bound prayer book.

Miss Sylvia Appleby, the pretty sister of the bride, was the maid of honor, dressed in a becoming frock of white georgette caught with pink rosebuds, and a Juliet cap of pink ribbon and rosebuds. Her bouquet was of pink rosebuds. The two bridesmaids, the Misses Beatrice and Geraldine Ross, wore dainty Empire frocks of pink tulle over white silk, and Juliet caps of pink ribbons of rosebuds. The tiny flower-girl, Miss Kathleen Johnston, wore a frock of pink georgette crepe and carried a silver slipper tied with pink tulle and filled with forget-me-nots. The groom was supported by Lieut. C. G. Galt, his second-in-command at the William Head camp.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, the reception rooms being beautifully decorated with white lilies and iris, and over two hundred guests including several of the groom's friends from the Orient attended to extend their felicitations to the young couple. Later, Lieut. and Mrs. Lowder left on the afternoon boat for a brief honeymoon trip to the Sound cities, the bride travelling in a state coach of white broadcloth with a chic pink hat.

The bride, whose only brother was killed in action last year while serving with the Canadian Corps, has been an indefatigable worker in various patriotic causes. She organized the "Sister Susie Club," which has done so much in the way of sending comforts to the men at the front, and she has been one of the most energetic members of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire.

The groom who has seen much service in the present war, was in the Department of Chinese Customs in Manchuria when war broke out and returned to England where he enlisted and served with the British forces in the early days of the fighting. His knowledge of Chinese language and customs, and to his being later withdrawn from France and appointed to the duty of conducting coolies from China overseas. He is a member of an English family which has been intimately connected with Eastern affairs, his father being Commissioner of Chinese Customs with headquarters in China and England. His grandfather was legal adviser to the Japanese government in Britain's early relations with that country, while his great-grandfather was for some time British Ambassador at Peking. A younger brother of the groom was killed in the battle of Loos in 1915, while another brother is now with a cavalry unit on the Western Front.

1914—RESURGENCE (I SHALL ARISE)
LA BELGIQUE—1918.

I shall arise the purer for my pain,
Washed free of taint by martyrdom and tears:
To face the happiness of future years,
Knowing my sacrifice was not in vain.

I shall arise triumphant; but the foe
Who planted on my soil the conqueror's heel,
Full penalties and punishment will feel.
I shall arise for Christ, has healed my woe.

RALPH YOUNGHUSBAND.
Maple Bay, V.I., B.C., May, 1918.

Uncle Wiggily, still pretending not to see Sammie, "the best part of it is that when you get hungry you eat a soldier's tent as well as play soldier boy in it."

"Oh, that's a tent for me to play soldier in?" cried the little rabbit boy. "Why, Sammie! Are you there?" asked Uncle Wiggily in a surprised voice. "Why yes, you may have this tent if you like."

"Oh, thank you!" cried Sammie. "I didn't know you could make a tent out of just cabbage leaves, a string and a pole."

"Did you try?" softly asked Uncle Wiggily.

"No," replied the rabbit boy, "I didn't."

And the bunny uncle never said another word. But Sammie wasn't cross any more. And, if the carpenter comes in and tells me he saw the board trying to hammer the plain pound cake with the nail file, I'll write next the story of Uncle Wiggily and Sammie's rope.

VANCOUVER WOMAN'S DANGEROUS WAR WORK

Just Returned After Nearly Two Years In English Explosives Factories

A Vancouver woman who has seen an interesting, though dangerous side of war work is Mrs. E. W. Reid, wife of Capt. Reid, of the 131st Battalion who has just returned to the mainland city after nearly two years in England.

In the summer of 1916 Mrs. Reid preceded her husband, with four of her five children, in leaving for the Old Country. After placing the children in boarding schools she took a course in high explosives at Woolwich Arsenal and passed equal with two other women at the head of the class. Of this mixed class not a man passed the examination.

Mrs. Reid was at once put in charge of two shops making 18-pounder and 4.5 Howitzer shells. The long twelve-hour shifts, alternate weeks of day and night duty, together with the bad weather of that winter and the damp atmosphere of the neighborhood where the works are situated, affected her lungs and generally broke down her health. At about this time she witnessed the terrible explosion that occurred at Silvertown, just as she was going on shift for night duty.

She was forced to lay off for several weeks, after which she was offered the position of supervisor at a large new plant in the south of Scotland producing cordite and gun cotton. Here she had charge of a shift of 650 women and was present when the King inspected the plant when on his tour of inspection of munition works throughout the United Kingdom. The occasion was a great demonstration of loyalty to His Majesty, the girls breaking through the cordon in their enthusiasm. Although conditions here were far superior in every way to those at Woolwich at that time, after several months her health began to fail again, and she was advised by both C. A. M. C. officers and a foremost London specialist to return to Canada. Shortly before her arrival in England, Mrs. Reid's father, who was an officer in the Imperial forces, was killed in action while serving with his regiment in France.

Social & Personal

Miss Denn went over to the mainland at the week-end to attend the annual banquet of the University Women's Club, of Vancouver, and during her short stay in the city was the guest of Mrs. J. A. Campbell.

Thomas Norris, son of Mrs. Norris, of Cook Street. Both are at present in France, the groom-elect with his bride, and the bride-elect at No. 1 Hospital, Dunkirk.

To-night in the Margaret Jenkins School, the Holyrood Red Cross branch will hold another of their series of popular informal dances. The energetic committee has made every arrangement for the comfort and pleasure of guests and a good programme of music will be furnished, so that nothing remains but for a large attendance to

GERMAN PLANS TO EXPLOIT MISSION FIELDS OF CHINA

Discovered Document Gave Show Away; Huge Translation Bureau Formed

Another striking example of how the Hun was preparing the world for Prussian domination in its various forms is related by the Rev. Dr. McGillivray, now in the city after more than thirty years' residence in China. From his vantage ground as a minister of the Gospel the doctor was able to study at close hand the method of launching and the progress in its initial stages of a scheme financed from Potsdam which had for its ultimate goal the Germanization of the Chinese Empire.

Exploiting Mission Field. While not able to place his finger on the point of meeting, it was a notorious fact, he said, that a body of German experts met in the Orient for no other purpose than to formulate plans whereby the mission field could be satisfactorily exploited for the furtherance of Germany's Welt Politik. The course to be adopted was the formation of a translation bureau whereby endless channels of literature could be tapped for submission to the native in the tongue of the Fatherland, the series to be impregnated with a fitting "Might is Right" atmosphere prior to judicious distribution.

The Usual Procedure. Ostensibly for the dissemination of the Gospel the German missionaries were to justify their propaganda on the assumption that Great Britain and America cared not one whit for the spiritual welfare of the Oriental but were merely seeking an Anglo-Saxon commercial aggression with the mantle of religion. With the Hunnish propensity to set out on the principle of the end justifying the means the German missionary was also required to become imbued with this convenient theory and so proceed to the end that the Teutonic tongue should become paramount as the commercial language in the East.

Duly Spotted. It was the discovery of a German document, wherein was set out in detail the modus operandi, that gave the other missionaries a clue to the whole nefarious plan. And while the scheme was merely in its primary stages Dr. McGillivray explains that the ambitious nature of it convinces him that every nerve will be strained by the German after the war to bring his labors in this connection to fruition. He urges a very close observation on the further progress of this insidious

SENTENCE OF DEATH PASSED ON MURDERER

Deputy Attorney-General Conducts Crown's Case at Fernie Assizes

John Young, alias John P. Walsh, was sentenced to death by Mr. Justice Morrison at the conclusion of the Fernie Assizes at the end of last week. The condemned man was convicted of the murder of William O. Hall at Bull River, Camp 19, on November 29 last. Young was a tie-maker hailing originally from Edmonton and the assault on the unfortunate man was the outcome of an altercation arising from Young's dismissal from the construction gang.

It is understood that Young nursed the idea that Hall was responsible for the former's notice to quit. A fight ensued and Young slew his adversary with an axe. The execution date is set for July 29 next.

The case for the Crown was conducted by the Deputy Attorney-General, A. M. Johnson.

The Boxer Indemnity. It will be of interest to understand how the plan was to be financed, and here the doctor says that the unimpeachable authority has it that the Boxer indemnity, payable yearly by the Chinese Government to the Imperial Treasury, was to be utilized for the gradual process of Teutonizing the Chinaman. The scheme found, its genesis in the grandiloquent peroration of the Kaiser on the occasion of his commemorative exercises celebrating his twenty-five years as "Kaiser und Koenig."

Maypole Rehearsal.—Mrs. Simpson, who is in charge of the training of the girls for the Maypole Dance to be given at the Royal Athletic Park on May 24, announces that the rehearsal, which was to have taken place to-morrow, has been postponed until Wednesday afternoon at 4.30.

Institute's Honor Roll.—Members of the Canadian Institute have given good service in the war and during the past year six have been killed in action, their names being as follows: Lieut. St. G. Campbell, J. S. Fleming, Capt. G. G. Gibbins, Col. T. C. Irving, Lieut. O. E. LeRoy and Lieut. C. F. McDougall.

Saanich Council.—At the meeting of the Saanich Council to-morrow evening it may be possible to proceed with the road traffic regulation by-law, and a by-law dealing with fire prevention. The former a measure to restrict heavy traffic on paved thoroughfares is proving difficult to adjust, the latter is an effort to define simple fire prevention expedients to save some of the destructive fire outbreaks which have occurred in the municipality of recent years, particularly in the summer time. It proposes to deal with dwellings as apart from fire ranging which is in the hands of the provincial authorities and for which a scheme of co-operation has already been arranged.

FOUGHT BRAVELY ON DESPITE HIS WOUNDS

Lieut. Jno. C. Mayer, Native of Province, Killed in His Twentieth Year

Details of the death of Lieut. John C. Mayer, who was killed in action on April 14, while serving with the Irish Guards, are given in a letter written by the adjutant of his battalion. Lieut. Mayer is the eldest son of William S. and Mrs. Maher, of Victoria, and Greenwood, Blackrock Co., Dublin. He was in his twentieth year and was born in British Columbia.

The adjutant writes to the dead officer's people as follows: "I want you to know one or two things that will make you still more proud of him. He had been wounded in the foot on the first morning that we went into the line, but he refused to go down. All the other officers in his company had been wounded, and so for two whole days he commanded his company without any officers, and commanded it extraordinarily well, although himself wounded. He was hit in the head by a sniper, and death was instantaneous." Father Brown, S.J., writes: "It has been my privilege and pleasure to know your brave boy since he came to us here. From the time of his arrival to the day of his death I always looked upon him as a great influence for good, both

THIS WEEK, NERVOUS MOTHER

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. WORTHLINE, 2842 North Taylor St., Philadelphia Pa.

The majority of mothers nowadays, however, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down, nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. It is at such periods in life that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will restore a normal healthy condition, as it did to Mrs. Worthline.

GURDIT SINGH GIVEN FIVE YEARS PRISON

Magistrate Gives Long Term for Safety of Prisoner and Public

Gurdit Singh, ex-convict and bad man of the local East Indian colony, who on Saturday was convicted of having in his possession an offensive weapon dangerous to the public peace, was sentenced to five years in prison by Magistrate Jay in the Police Court this morning. The prisoner had nothing to say in his own defence, and he stated through his interpreter, W. Inray-Gordon, that all the evidence brought against him was correct.

A Dangerous Man.
Magistrate Jay in summing up the case pointed out that Gurdit Singh had been sentenced on September 25, 1914, to four years in the penitentiary for having explosives in his possession. It had been established in the course of the present trial that the prisoner had concealed on his person at the time of his arrest an automatic pistol, and that further he had secreted in the false bottom of a trunk in his dwelling place three other revolvers, all loaded, and a quantity of ammunition. All this, said the magistrate, pointed to the conclusion that the prisoner intended these weapons for some unlawful purpose.

Interested in Explosives.
It had also come out in the case that while the prisoner was serving his term at the Westminister penitentiary, he had on several occasions questioned a returned soldier concerning explosives, and that he had been intensely interested in nitro-glycerine. It was apparent that he was considering further experiments with the substance. "There is no doubt," said Magistrate Jay, "that Gurdit Singh is a dangerous man, and one who should be placed under restraint, not only for his own safety but for the safety of the public." The magistrate therefore sentenced him to five years in prison.

Singh Nervous.
The Court was crowded with Hindus, who were all searched before being allowed to enter, and who seemed deeply interested in the proceedings. The prisoner's appearance this morning was haggard and his nervousness was very evident. He constantly clinched and unclenched his hands, and let his glance rove about the room. He listened attentively to all that was said, and nodded to the explanations of the interpreter, but when given an opportunity of speaking in his own defence and of advancing a reason why he should not be sentenced, he would say nothing.

AMERICANS ASK LOAN LOCAL WAR EXHIBIT

Red Cross Trophy Exhibition May Go Over to States

Perhaps no more sincere tribute to the unique and interesting character of the war trophy exhibition which has been staged in the Hinton building for the past six weeks, could be paid than the request that the exhibit be sent over to the United States to be used as one of the big drawing cards in a whirlwind campaign to raise $100,000 for the American Red Cross.

Saturday's receipts have brought the total proceeds to approximately $1,000, and it is hoped to substantially increase this sum before the exhibit finally closes this week. The organizers of the exhibition feel that they have thus demonstrated in no uncertain manner, justification for the gathering together of the relics so kindly loaned by Major-General Leckie, Col. Hodgins, Major Barty, Major Schreiber, Capt. Williams, Capt. Wallis, Major Fletcher, Capt. Halsey, Lieut. Gladstone, George Mehl and the many others who materially assisted. The unique collection has proved an invaluable educational feature and in addition has served to arouse and rivet the attention of thousands on the ever-present needs of the Canadian Red Cross Society.

Of the demonstrators, special mention must be made of Sgt. Watson, Messrs Howard, Horan and Crampthorn, all of whom have given many hours to the work of explaining the uses of the various trophies and souvenirs. To-day the exhibition is in charge of a committee from the Fairfield branch of the Red Cross and to-morrow the Fernwood branch will have a committee in attendance.

NO DEFINITE ANSWER TO CITY'S CLAIM

Offshoot of Sooke Waterworks Suit Hangs Fire; Fidelity Company's Position

The Westholme waterworks case, although finished in the main action, still presents problems which may require the elucidation of the Bench. While the Privy Council judgment appears to dispose of the adjustment on cost of construction, by establishing a tribunal to determine the amount of difference at stake, the City has also been negotiating for months to reach a settlement with the guarantors of the contracting company, who were pledged to one-tenth of the original contract price as awarded to the Westholme Lumber Company.

The amount at issue is about $115,000, and the fidelity company has hitherto declined to be specific as to what course it will take with the claim. The last communication received indicated that the matter had been referred to the claims agent of the company. This company is the United States Fidelity and Guarantee Corporation, and the circumstances under which it became a party were as follows: When the contract was entered into between the then Water Commissioner and the contractors in December, 1911, and ratified next month by vote of the ratepayers, the arrangement provided for a cash holdback of ten per cent. on the contract price. The cash holdback was released to the company in 1912, against the advice of some of the city officials, in order to pay orders for steel plate for the pressure line and in lieu thereof a bond was accepted. The cash holdback at that time was about $78,000. In December 1912 the arrangement was completed which now forms the subject of the claim. It appears the city's lawyers, to whom this matter has been referred, had the important question to determine of legal default by the contracting company, before the fidelity company is capable of being sued.

In Supreme Court Chambers this morning City Solicitor Hannington made an application before Mr. Justice Macdonald to take out of Court the exhibits which were filed in the course of the trial. An order was granted on the City undertaking to return them if they are required at any time in further proceedings.

MUST CONFORM TO TRAFFIC BY-LAW

Case in County Court Emphasizes That Care Must Be Exercised

In the County Court action of Dalziel vs. Kelly, Judge Lammman gave judgment to-day in favor of the plaintiff for $63. Dalziel brought the action to recover damages to his automobile when a collision took place between his car and one owned by defendant's wife, but driven by defendant. The accident took place some time ago at the corner of Garbally Road and Douglas Street.

His Honor stated that had it not been for the by-law passed by the City Council last November the matter might have been a difficult one to decide. However, the by-law in question provided that the driver approaching an intersection of two streets should give the right-of-way to the man coming up on the left hand side of the other street, and only in cases where the cars are so far distant as to preclude every possible chance of collision should an attempt be made to cross in contravention of this rule.

The evidence showed that the two cars in question were at most only a few feet apart when the defendant allowed plaintiff's car approaching, and His Honor held the defendant to be at fault in breaking the rule of the road as laid down by the city by-law, as he should have waited to allow the plaintiff to pass in front of him.

APPEARS IN COURT ON SERIOUS CHARGE

Richard Forbes, Alleged to Have Criticized Food Regulations Is Remanded

The case of Richard Forbes, charged with using seditious language in his expressions regarding the food regulations was remanded until to-morrow by Magistrate Jay in the Police Court this morning. It was alleged that two witnesses that "The Kaiser's got them fixed," and that in Germany "They are feeding Britishers to hogs." It was further alleged that Stevens had stated "They are letting the Germans go too far with this war," and that he complained about the food shortage.

"A Great Nation England!"

The first witness, Samuel Ball testified that shortly after noon on Saturday he had met accused in a building adjoining the Public Market, and that they had both remarked on the wet weather and its effect upon the sale of produce. Accused, the witness stated, had said it was a poor day at the market, not on account of the weather, but because the people "are starving, and the authorities won't let them have bread." Witness had replied that "We shall have to make the best of it," and the people of England are in the same circumstances. Accused had said in a sneering manner: "A great nation, England—been at it four years and not finished yet! The Kaiser's got them fixed—they are feeding Britishers to hogs there!"

Witness stated that accused had "made great capital" of this latter British practice, and referring to the fact that he had three brothers at the front, said he "couldn't stand it." Witness called J. Rylan, to whom accused had repeated his remarks about the Kaiser and his hogs, and afterwards Forbes was arrested at their instigation. Mr. Rylan corroborated the statements of the previous witness.

Denies Allegations.
Accused stated under oath that he had met Mr. Ball alone on Saturday, and after some talk concerning the weather he had remarked that times were getting hard and money scarce, and that "they are letting the Germans go too far with this war." He denied absolutely that he had said anything to either witness about feeding Britishers to hogs or that "The Kaiser's got them fixed." He had had no conversation with the second witness. Accused stated that he had no particular reason for making any comments on the lessening of the quantity of bread in local restaurants.

Forbes stated that he was Irish, but no Sein Feiner, and he advanced several ideas with regard to Ireland's position at present. Magistrate Jay remarked that the time was hardly opportune for a discussion of the Irish problem.

Accused admitted that he previously had been in the habit of spending his money at Chinese lotteries, but he declared "They can't bring the lifting of a brass pin against me." He was no German he said, nor were his sympathies with the Central Powers.

Board of Trade.—The committee on Island Boards of Trade met this morning and decided to have letters sent to each Board of Trade on Vancouver Island asking if they were willing to co-operate in the formation of an Associated Board of Trade of Vancouver Island, in connection with which it is intended to hold the first organization meeting not later than June at a central point on the Island, possibly Ladysmith or Nanaimo.

WE MUST GIVE MORE RED TRIANGLE FUND

About $24,000 has been subscribed in this district towards the joint fund for National and Local Y. M. C. A. work. As a much larger response was expected, the good name of Victoria and surrounding section of the Island is at stake.

There must be many hundreds of people who have not yet contributed, who are sufficiently interested in the welfare of the boys, and who know enough of the helpful character of the Y. M. C. A. programme at home and overseas, to lead them to give some of their earnings or savings to help continue the invaluable service of the Red Triangle.

NOW IS YOUR CHANCE TO HELP

Give as much as your purse or bank account will permit, and persuade your neighbor, friend or business associate to do likewise.

If it is not convenient to give cash now, state what amount you will give 3 months or 6 months from now. Victory bonds are acceptable. Please bring or send your gift to the Y. M. C. A. Building, or to Mr. F. B. Pemberton, Hon. Treasurer, 614 Fort St., or phone 5880.

Unless otherwise specified, 40% of the Joint Fund will go to the National Council Budget, and 60% to maintenance of the Victoria Association. However, the instructions of any person who desires his contribution to be allocated otherwise will be strictly followed.

"Without the Y at Home, there would be no Y Huts Overseas."

TO MEET COUNCIL

Cloverdale School Question Will Be Taken Up Between Saanich Council and Trustees To-morrow.

In order to discuss the situation which has arisen with regard to the Cloverdale School, the Saanich School Trustees will meet the Municipal Council to-morrow at the hall and discuss the position in the light of a promise from the Provincial Department of Education to contribute one-third of the cost of the school, provided it does not exceed $45,000.

A preliminary meeting was held on Saturday evening as soon as it was known that the offer had been made, and three trustees attended on short notice.

The circumstances which have led up to the demand for new accommodation are familiar, action having been accelerated by the position taken by the City Board with regard to the pupils domiciled in Saanich who are attending city schools, notably Quadra Street.

The Board decided to consult the Council before taking any action.

GETS DECORATION

Flight-Lieut. Jack Houston Wins Military Cross.

Flight-Lieut. Jack Houston has been awarded the Military Cross, according to advice received by friends in Victoria. Before the outbreak of war he did some wonderful work on the football field as a member of the J. B. A. A. Rugby team. His friends are not surprised that with his natural spirit of sportsmanship he has won for himself the distinction of wearing the M. C.

In a letter to Vincent Grey from Palestine Lieut. Houston relates some of his experiences whilst serving with a battalion marching on Jerusalem, when after one of the engagements only three officers of his battalion were left. Details of his winning the M. C. are not given but it was probably during the fighting before Jerusalem that he distinguished himself. Later he joined the Flying Corps.

Elected May Queen in Red Cross Society's Competition; Miss Carne Second

MISS EVELYN DUTOT

Miss Evelyn Dutot is the successful candidate in the May Queen contest, and she will therefore be crowned with all due ceremony at the Victoria Day Red Cross carnival, which is to be held at the Royal Athletic Park on Friday, May 24.

Miss Dutot received 18,126 votes, giving her a huge majority over all other contestants. She was the nominee of the Imperial Munitions Board. Miss Marjorie Carne, candidate of the Women's Auxiliary to the Great War Veterans' Association; Miss Marjorie Tripp, candidate of the B. C. Telephone Company; Miss Dorothy Poulton, candidate of the Gordon Head Women's Institute; and Miss Margaret Grandy, candidate of Terry's Drug Store, will be made of honor, their votes being 4,590, 4,333, 2,456 and 2,236 respectively. The remaining candidates received the following votes: Miss Edna Verdier, the nominee of the West Saanich Women's Institute, 2,332; Miss Sybil Ireland, the candidate of Military District No. 11 Headquarters, 1,837; Miss Corbett, the nominee of the Winnifred Winkler, 1,832; Miss Elizabeth Auvache, the nominee of the "J" Unit Headquarters, 571; and Miss Ruth McMahon, the nominee of Hippodrome Hall, 424.

The total vote polled was 37,527, and it will be seen that Miss Dutot secured nearly half of the poll. In addition to being made the May Queen she will be presented with the prize offered the successful contestant, a $50 Victory Bond. As a result of the contest the Red Cross Society will have about $2,900 added to its funds.

When the figures were first totalled an error placed Miss Tripp ahead of Miss Carne. It is now found that Miss Carne comes second with 4,590 votes, all the other figures remaining the same.

KILLED BY SHELL

Lieut. A. J. Massan Meets Death From German Artillery.

Second Lieut. A. J. Massan, who for some time was a member of the staff of the Victoria Transfer Company, was killed by a German shell on March 21 according to information reaching the city. He joined up the day war was declared, having enlisted with the 30th B. C. Horse in Vancouver as a private. He later transferred to the Strathcona Horse and owing to his enthusiasm and keen intelligence he quickly rose in rank.

Lieut. Massan leaves a mother and three sisters living in Edinburgh. He came to Canada from the Old Country in 1910 before his address is given as Flight Sub-Lieutenant L. A. Rees, R.N., Air Station, Felixstowe, England. His mother resides at 116 Victoria Street, Westminster, London, Eng.

RETURNS TO LIFE

Name Was Inscribed in University of Washington's Roll of Honor; Now in the Royal Naval Air Service.

Two years ago a report reached the University of Washington to the effect that H. A. Rees and L. A. Rees, two brothers, who in 1914 were enrolled there in the forestry course, had lost their lives while fighting with the Canadian troops in France. Their names were duly inscribed on the University's roll of honor.

Now comes the news—and it is verified by the Department of Lands at the Parliament Buildings—that H. A. Rees was actually killed, but that his brother reported himself safe last August. The living brother's address is given as Flight Sub-Lieutenant L. A. Rees, R.N., Air Station, Felixstowe, England. His mother resides at 116 Victoria Street, Westminster, London, Eng.

ROUND SUM NETTED FOR RED CROSS BY FIGHT AT WILLOWS

As a result of the boxing match held at the Willows on Friday evening under the auspices of military authorities, the sum of $113.15 has been handed over to the Red Cross Society, a check for that amount having been signed by Lieut.-Col. Major, the officer commanding. The management of the affair was under the direction of Lieut. Fletcher, the officer in charge of the physical training and sports at the camp.

LOCAL STRAWBERRIES

READY FOR MARKET

THREE WEEKS HENCE

Rains Will Improve Quality and Increase Quantity of Crop

MOST OF FRUIT WILL BE SHIPPED TO PRAIRIES

At the meeting of the Gordon Head Fruitgrowers' Association Executive on Saturday evening the strawberry crop situation for the 1918 season was fully discussed and the necessary arrangements made for the joint meeting of the Gordon Head Association directors with those of the Saanich Association next Saturday.

The promise is that picking will commence on the peninsula about June 8 to June 10 and that the whole of the Magooie will be picked for the prairie trade, leaving the local market to be filled with Paxtons and similar varieties. There is little prospect of local berries going to the Vancouver market unless the transportation regulations now enforced should be modified before the actual shipping season. At present the requirement is that the berries should be on the wharf at four o'clock each afternoon, which will render it impossible to ship. Without a preference for soft fruit over the ordinary classes of freight, growers will have to forego handling the Vancouver business, so the meeting agreed.

Twenty Carloads. The estimate of the crop is distinctly less optimistic than twelve months ago, when actual shipments did not reach the estimate of officials owing to drought at the height of the season. The growers have contracted for twenty carloads for prairie delivery, and that figure, it is assumed, will fully cover all the best shipping varieties.

The crop itself is looking promising, and straw will be laid between the rows before the end of the week. The labor situation will be catered for by women workers and others as was done last year, though a number of students will not have commenced their summer vacation when the berry picking season begins, in contrast to last year, when the season was much later.

Prices High. Prices promise to be rather high, and may compensate for loss in aggregate production. Across the line where the season is earlier, eastbound shipments have begun, the first car from Kennewick leaving on Saturday, and carload lots for Seattle have begun to-day. California berry fruit, similar to that available here, is still pressing heavily on Washington berries, at from $3.25 to $3.50 per crate as compared with Kennewick berries quoted at $4.25 per crate. Doubtless by the end of the month it will be known how prices will run for the strawberry season here.

TAG DAY NETS $1,647

Splendid Result of Saturday's Appeal on Behalf of Returned Soldier Patients in Convalescent Hospitals.

Saturday's tag day realized the splendid sum of $1,647.04, in response to the appeal made by the Women's Auxiliary to the Military Convalescent Hospitals. In spite of the somewhat trying weather conditions an army of taggers invaded the streets at an early hour, and by noon there were few pedestrians who failed to disport the little blue forget-me-not, which was the day's emblem.

The collection included a cheque for $50 received from Mrs. James Dunsmuir. "Muggins," who was stationed at William's Drug Store in charge of Pte. Johnston, a returned soldier from the St. George's Ward at Esquimalt Hospital, proved irresistible in his appeals, which were backed up by his friend in khaki, and at the close of the day his box was found to contain $131.61. "Peter," the other famous collector, collected the sum of $80.57.

Much interest was caused by the appearance in the main streets of a "rickshaw" which was a veritable bower of pink roses, and was laden with baskets of lilies of the valley. Seated in the conveyance was little Daphne Pooley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pooley, and acting as bearers were Lieuts. Hogg and Birnam, of the military staff at William Head. The charming little occupant did a brisk trade with her flowers, the proceeds of which were handed in to the general tag day fund. The proceeds of the day's collection will be used to provide extra furnishings, comforts, games, etc., for the returned soldier patients in the local military convalescent hospitals. It is interesting to note that the dainty little emblems were the handiwork of the coolies at William Head. Lieut. C. G. Davis, second-in-command, superintending the work, which was undertaken at the expressed wish of the Chinese who welcomed the opportunity to thus "do their bit."

UNOFFICIAL VISIT

Major General Gwatkin, Chief of the General Staff, Will Probably Take Ocean Trip.

Major-General R. G. E. Leckie, O.C. M. D. 11, was in Vancouver over the week-end and while there met Major-General Gwatkin, chief of the General Staff, Ottawa. General Gwatkin is expected to reach the city during the week on an official visit, on the completion of which it is likely that he will take an ocean voyage before returning to his duties at the National Capital. The General saw two years' service in France and was created a Companion of the Bath in 1916.

Commencing June 1 all banking institutions in the city and throughout the Dominion of Canada will open their doors to the public at 9.30 in the morning, instead of 10 as heretofore, and will close again at 2.30 p. m. instead of 3 as at present. On Saturdays the banks will close at 12.

In deciding to make this change the banks explain that the new order of things will benefit them considerably as it will give them more time to attend to routine work after the closing hour. It has been found necessary to do something of the sort owing to the

TO-DAY'S AMUSEMENTS

Royal Victoria—Mary Pickford in "Amarilly of Clothesline Alley."
 Dominion—Sir Forbes-Robertson in "Passing of the Third Floor Back."
 Romano—Fannie Ward in "Innocent."
 Variety—Jack Pickford in "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer."
 Columbia—J. Warren Kerrigan in "The Turn of a Card."
 Pantages—Montagu Love in "The Awakening."

ROYAL VICTORIA

Comedy holds full sway in "Amarilly of Clothes Line Alley," the next Arctcraft picture following "Stella Maris," which stars Mary Pickford, and which will be exhibited at the Royal Victoria Theatre all this week.

While in every picture presenting Miss Pickford there has been more or less comedy and the star has time and again proven herself a comedienne of rare ability, as well as an actress capable of any height of emotional acting. It is said that there has never before been a Pickford photoplay wherein humor predominated to such an extent as in this new story of the slums.

There are many moments of genuine pathos and any number of thrills in the course of the picture, but laughter will hold sway, overcoming momentary predisposition to tears. Throughout the story "Our Mary," with some, dainty withal, presents a convincing figure of the little tenement girl straying far afield into the realms of the idle rich, lured by the blandishments of a scion of wealth, but returns at last to her natural environment, where she finds happiness.

COLUMBIA

"The turn of a Card," J. Warren Kerrigan's second Paralta play, which was produced by Mr. Kerrigan's own company, and which will be shown at the Columbia Theatre for three days, commencing Monday, marks a milestone in the actor's career.

Not only does this picture contain some of the most beautiful scenic effects and magnificent studio settings that have yet appeared in Paralta plays, but the breezy plot and the acting of Mr. Kerrigan are unusually fine. Mr. Kerrigan considers that the remarkable success of the second production under the Paralta banner makes certain his footing upon the pinnacle which he has been hoping to reach during his entire career. Mr. Kerrigan's own company was formed but a short time ago, and his first picture, "A Man's Man," released recently, was praised by critics everywhere. One success, however, though the best encouragement, can scarcely be considered a sign of absolute triumph. Now that "The Turn of a Card" has proved an even greater achievement, Mr. Kerrigan feels justified in feeling that his star is shining more brilliantly than ever before.

When the screen first attracted Mr. Kerrigan he made his debut as actor in the silent drama with the Essanay Company. After his engagement with Essanay, Mr. Kerrigan spent three years with American and made several pictures for Universal before the organization of his own company. Then with his connection with Paralta he started out to eclipse all his former achievements. He is now one of America's most popular screen players. "The Turn of a Card" will be shown at the Columbia theatre for three days, commencing to-day.

PANTAGES

One of the most attractive features of a motion picture may have is charm. It is charm that causes people to talk about a picture for days after they have seen it, and it is this sort of charm that "The Awakening" has in most generous proportions. This newest photoplay with Montagu Love and Dorothy Kelly as the stars is being shown on the screen at the Pantages Theatre to-day and Tuesday.

The picture tells the story of a young man who is a lonely orphan but who has wonderful ability as a painter. He goes to London and there, because he is always disagreeable and never takes care of his clothes, he is called "The Beast." But despite his rough exterior a deep tenderness lies in his heart. He yearns for some one to love him. So when he finds Marguerite, an orphan girl, slowly freezing to death on the steps leading to his home, he picks her up and carries her to his room. There, with his best friend and the landlady of the house, he brings Marguerite back to life. A deep and abiding love soon comes to "The Beast" and Marguerite, and they plan for great happiness together. But one of the members of the artists' colony where they live, a high-living, reckless youth—has designs upon Marguerite. And these designs he carries out through a diabolical plot. And then—But see this very exceptional production and see for yourself what happens next. You will most certainly enjoy this picture immensely.

Pearl White attended the Army and Navy exhibition at Madison Square Garden last month. In the next box was a well-known judge. His eyes wandered to the serial star's profile. "What a beautiful woman," he remarked. Miss White heard—also recognized the noted jurist. "What an excellent judge," she remarked quickly.

The working title of May Allison's second starring vehicle is quite appropriate. "The Candy Girl."

ROMANO

Fannie Ward, star of "Innocent," the highly praised Pathe Play, which will be at the Romano Theatre to-night, has lost considerable of her liking for animals since a recent experience with the studio cat.

One of the big scenes in "Innocent" the little star used a nightgown of real Venetian lace, considered priceless because it could not be duplicated. One morning while on the stage of the studio she left the door of her dressing-room open and the cat which she has befriended took advantage of the fact and proceeded to use the gown as a whetstone on which to sharpen her claws. The studio dog, "Shep," got wind of Miss Ward's feline visitor and did a little visiting himself. When the last echoes of the short but exceedingly noisy battle had died away Miss Ward returned to her dressing-room from her work on the studio floor. She discovered that the wonderful nightgown had been an "innocent bystander" in a riot and had suffered even as that bystander always does.

Miss Ward will adopt no more cats.

Nat C. Goodwin obtained a verdict of $15,200, and incidentally much publicity in his recent breach of contract suit against the Mirror Film Company. And Nat's fifth wife has sued him for divorce.

FIFTH ESTATE IS DEMOCRACY'S CHILD

Motion Picture is the Mute Voice of the Masses

Many years ago the king was supreme.

Then the powerful nobles wrested from him a share in the ruling power. Then the common people, by industry and education, became aware of their own strength and forced their entry to the councils of the nation.

About the time of the American Revolution, Edmund Burke said: "There are three estates in Parliament, but in the reporters' gallery yonder there sit a Fourth Estate more important far than them all."

From that day the Press was known as the Fourth Estate, and king, nobility and Commons were compelled to recognize it as a force in the government. It was an influence that, by sheer will and intelligence, has become one of the dominating elements in the political and social life of the world. Nor is this true alone of monarchies. What would the will of the president be worth without the support of Congress? What would the will of Congress be worth without the support of the people? And how could the will of the people be made operative without the support of the Press—the Fourth Estate?

The moving picture is to-day the Fifth Estate, by virtue of the fact that it has come into the life of the people, not merely as a plaything, but as a revelation of their own existence, in form so vivid and true that for the first time in history they recognize themselves as they are.

The moving picture is the Fifth Estate because it is democracy's own child and not the outcome of an intellectual movement, a political upheaval, a religious revival. It is the Fifth Estate because the vast, mute, unlettered masses, demanding a voice, found it in the moving picture—a silent voice, speaking the language of common men.

It is the Fifth Estate despite the fact that its speech is not always coherent, despite the fact that certain academic snobs are prone to look upon it with scorn, despite the fact that unscrupulous men frequently betray it for quick profit, despite the fact that it has not even yet found the keynote of its full diapason.

It is the Fifth Estate because it lives in the hearts and the lives of the millions, because it is armed with the magic sword of simplicity that severs all Gordian knots and cleaves down into the fundamental meaning of things.

It is the Fifth Estate, last-born of humanity's brood—yet who shall say that it may not be first in influence?

DOMINION

Made famous in this country and in England by the acting of Sir Johnston Forbes-Robertson, "Passing of the Third Floor Back," Jerome K. Jerome's stage play, has been put into screen form by Herbert Brenon, and is now being shown at the Dominion Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Sir Johnston plays his original part of the Stranger. Those who saw the play on the stage will miss the star's chief asset—his melodious voice—but the same gentle dignity which was so winning in the spoken play is brought out equally well on the screen, and the beautiful sentiment of the story cannot fail to reach the heart of every spectator. Several changes have been thought necessary in the plot, the greater freedom of the screen allowing them to be introduced. As originally written every scene took place in the parlor of a London boarding house.

"Passing of the Third Floor Back" is a modern allegory. Its action is all fashioned to drive home the lesson that selfishness is at the bottom of the misery of the world. The inmates of the boarding house shown in the picture are trying their best to show their worst side to one another when a new lodger arrives. He is a man in whom the spirit of Christ is reflected. Every word and every action of his reveals his thought and care for those about him. To each one of his fellow-lodgers he shows a way out of the difficulty into which his own folly has led him. The dishonest landlady, the immortal little slavey, the father and mother who are willing to sacrifice their daughter for the sake of a wealthy marriage, all are taught the true meaning of life. It is certain that the screen version of the play will repeat its stage success.

A LOVE LETTER.

According to a press agent story, Billy West has received a love letter, and the missive is published, with the name of the misguided girl who wrote it. Perhaps this was such an event in the life of this shameless imitator of Chaplin that it was considered worth recording publicly. It is the first case on record, so far as we know, where any actor has been such a cad. But then, perhaps it is just another example of the Billy West idea of humor.

E. K. Lincoln, long absent from moving pictures (this last venture was with Goldwyn), has left for the West, where he will appear in a new photoplay.

Who would have believed that such a classic as "Uncle Tom's Cabin" had been overlooked this long by producers? The discovery was made by Paramount and Marguerite Clark will be seen before long as Little Eva.

Marguerite Clark passed the first part of April enjoying an attack of mumps. Honest! She's been playing kid parts so long that when she has an illness it must be one that seldom occurs to any person older than ten years.

Edward J. Langford is now a corporal in Co. K of the 107th Infantry, stationed at Camp Wadsworth, S.C. He was a prominent member of the World Film Co. He says he finds the work very interesting and is eager to get a chance to do his bit in France.

SOOKE IS TREATED TO FINE CONCERT

Entertainers From Victoria Assist in Raising Funds for Church and Red Cross

The residents of Sooke were treated to what is conceded to be one of the best concerts ever staged in the district when on Friday night a party of Victorians put on an entertainment in aid of the Holy Trinity Church and the Red Cross Society. The Sooke hall was crowded and about 150 was raised. The programme was given by the McLean-Dixon Concert aggregation of Victoria, under the personal direction of Ernest J. Down. In a brief though entertaining introductory speech Mr. Down created a decidedly receptive attitude with the audience, after which he introduced the artists separately and in suitable style. The entire programme was received with marked appreciation, each of the artists being encored several times.

Among the Victoria artists contributing to the entertainment in the order of the programme were S. C. Furniston, offering some excellent pianoforte selections; Miss Phyllis Betteridge, a talented and graceful dancer, and Geo. Menzies, giving quaint and funny character interpretations in song. The Misses Mary and Jessie Shearer, well-known on the coast for their accomplished performances of various Scottish dances, and Miss Agnes Wallace, champion piper, all gold medalists, gave great enjoyment to the evening's entertainment.

Putting as much of the Irish sentiment into their performance as there was of Scotch in those immediately preceding, Tom and Lillian Dooley, in their character songs and dances made a great hit. Neil Black McWhinnie, who already has the reputation of being the "Harry Lauder of Canada," created a riot of appreciation with his Scottish songs in costume. He became so popular with the audience that, by special request, several of his special numbers were added to the programme. The climax of the evening came with the star performance of Harold Dixon and Lauchlan D. McLean, who created a profound atmosphere of mystery punctuated, with burst of fun with their unrivaled magic and sleight-of-hand. Not for an instant did the interest lag in their fascinating series of specialties.

Following the programme dancing was enjoyed, and refreshments at midnight. A vote of thanks was extended to the visitors, substantiated by a wild outburst of applause.

NOTES OF THE MOVIES

George D. Baker will show Edith Storey, how to play "The Demon," a product from the brains of C. N. and A. M. Williamson.

Olive Thomas was married to Jack Pickford in the early fall. She's not a bit jealous of the number of times Jack has kissed Louise Huff. Neither is Edgar Jones.

Francis Bushman has trained two of his collie dogs for war work, and will present them, with a check for their upkeep during the war, to the Red Cross "Over There."

Howard Hickman has graduated into the directors' class and will hereafter be directorially responsible for Bessie Barriscale at the Paralta studio—as well as at home.

Buster Keaton and "Scoop" Conlon, the former the well-known player in Arbuckle comedies and the latter known as Mr. Arbuckle's personal press representative, have been accepted under the draft.

The Bert Lytell Company is now installed at the Metro Hollywood studio. In the ranks are Anna Q. Nilsson, leading-woman; Edwin Carewe, director; Harry S. Northrup, Ernest Maupain and John S. Smiley.

Wallace MacDonald, while playing opposite Alma Ruben in her last Triangle picture, became lost while on location, and it was many hours before a rescuing car from the Culver City studios finally found him in the wilderness of Chatsworth Park.

Echoes from the front have reached the World studio in letters from Edward Langford and George Cowi. Langford is stationed with the Seventy-first Regiment at Camp Wadsworth, Spartanburg. Cowi is a member of the Canadian Pioneers.

Louise Glaum has formed a "Candy Brigade," consisting of Bessie Barriscale, Bessie Love, Edna Earle, Mabel Condon and Olive Thomas, to make sweets for the Sammies. Three shipments have been made and as yet Pershing has reported no casualties resulting.

Here's the list of Marguerite Clark's photoplays: "Wildflower," "The Crucible," "The Goose Girl," "Christmas Green," "Pretty Sister of Jose," "Seven Sisters," "Helene of the North," "Still Waters," "Prince and the Pauper," "Mice and Men," "Out of the Drifts," "Molly-Make-Believe," "Silks and Satins," "Little Lady Eileen," "Miss George Washington," "Fortunes of Fifi," "Snow White," "The Valentine Girl," "The Amazons," "Bab's Burglar," "Bab's Matinee Idol," "Seven Swans," and "Prunella."

Old Irene Pico, who conducted a lunch-room opposite the old Biograph studio, passed away the other day. She left a diary. Here is an extract: "Today a little girl came to the restaurant and asked for a piece of apple pie. Then she asked for another and another—in all, she ate five pieces. I asked her if she was fond of pie. She said, 'Yes,' but her mother wouldn't let her eat it because if she grew stout she wouldn't photograph well. She said her name was Mary Smith, but everybody called her Mary Pickford."

PLAYERS JOIN ARMY.

Picture studios continue to be robbed of their players who are of military age. Rex Ingram, who directed several of the Henry Walthall Paralta photoplays, has joined the Canadian flying corps. Freddie Goodwins, another British subject who has played with Chaplin, Fairbanks and Mary Pickford during the last year in comedy roles, has joined the colors. In addition to the players, many cameramen have joined the photographic section of the signal corps.

Mabel Van Buren, well-known film actress, and the wife of Ernest Joy, didn't altogether want to have her daughter go on the stage or on the screen. The daughter, Miss Kate Charlton, has accordingly done both. She is a member of the "Peter Ibbetson" company with John Barrymore and Constance Collier, and as to her film work—well, let her mother tell it. "I went into a picture theatre the other night," said Miss Van Buren, "to see a Lasky play in which I appeared. The comedy came on first—one of the O. Henry stories. I looked up listlessly as the heroine entered the room—and if it wasn't my own daughter? She hadn't told me she was doing any picture work at all."

Winifred Allen participated in a romance which is more thrilling than any picture in which she ever starred. She married Lieut. Lawrence Sperry recently while out for a ride with him in his airplane. They were engaged and expected to be married before Lieut. Sperry sailed for France, but the wedding was hastened when the bridegroom suggested that they alight and get a minister. The minister and the Sperry family were corraled, and after the ceremony the bride and groom flew away, the groom to report for duty and the bride to wait for his return from war. Miss Allen's last picture was "From Two to Six;" and she had previously appeared in "The Man Who Made Good" and other Alan Dwan-Triangle pictures.

Wanda Fellit is the latter no more. That is, she has assumed her honest-to-goodness name, which is—Wanda Hawley. The change came about when the blonde lady quit the William Fox concern for the Douglas Fairbanks corporation. Allan Dwan, the director, didn't like the Pettit part—said it wasn't euphonious, or something, so Wanda had it deleted without a murmur.

Robert Andersen, a star in Griffith's new picture, "Hearts of the World," was a thirty-dollar-a-week actor, it is said. It is now up to some thicker-headed producer to induce him to leave the man who made him, for a lot of money. Griffith's stars are never borrowed celebrities. They are flexible, pliable young people whose minds and bodies are entirely open to the expression of the Griffith idea.

Charles Richman is again before the footlights in a vaudeville play. This is his first appearance on the stage for three years, during which time he was with Vitaphone and an independent organization.

VARIETY

At the Variety Theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Jack Pickford will appear in a thrilling Paramount version of "Huck and Tom," or "The Further Adventures of Tom Sawyer," which was arranged for him from Mark Twain's famous story, "Tom Sawyer," by Julia Crawford Ivers. Lovers of the immortal Tom will remember the adventure of the grave robbers, when Huck and Tom were trying to rid themselves of impending wars, the painkiller which Tom administered to an unsuspecting cat, and the finding of the robbers' gold in the cave. The cast is almost the same as in the first picture, with Edythe Chapman as Aunt Polly, Robert Gordon as Huck, Clara Horton as Becky Thatcher, and all the others.

TICK HANDLERS OF
SIDNEY ARE VICTIMS
TO VICTORIA'S SKILLLocal Lacrosse Team Invades
City of Enemy and Returns With Scalps

The Victoria lacrosse team which visited Sidney on Saturday with the intention of defeating, if possible, for a second time, the athletes of that city, were rewarded with a victory by a score of eleven to seven. Though the Sidney stick-handlers had improved considerably since the last contest they were completely overwhelmed by the issue of the game was at no time in doubt, and the local boys returned with a choice array of scalps. The home team was much faster and better physical shape than the visiting aggregation, and the Sidney men in circles round some of their opponents. But the science and experience of the latter easily won the battle.

Good Clean Lacrosse.
The game was fast but clean from start to finish, and no penalties were exacted for rough work by any of the players. The Sidney boys showed results of constant and strenuous training, and their vigor and speed was a chief source of worry to the Victorians. Though they had evidently undergone regular practice since the previous meeting the rural athletes did not learn to handle their sticks. Stick-handling is an art not to be acquired in one or even two seasons. Their endurance and agility could avail little when they were unable to stick in any team work. Time and time again the Sidney players would rush into the field and work in close to the Victoria net, but just when a successful shot seemed inevitable they would lose the ball.

A Bunch of Veterans.
On the other hand the visiting stick-handlers were nearly all veterans at the sport, and their combination and team work showed the results of many years' play. They put up a fine exhibition of finished lacrosse, and their smooth, flawless tactics entirely baffled the Sidney fellows. In fact it was so to the beholders that the Victorians could have sworn a much larger score if they had felt so disposed. However, too much credit cannot be given to the losers for their sportsmanship and their evident hard work in proving themselves.

The Stars.
Joe Mitchell and Feedingham were the most spectacular of the Victoria men. Frank Sweeney, the ponderous skipper of the local outfit, was right there with his old-time pep and science, and the fact that he seems to be losing some of his circumference, is not causing him or his fellow stick-handlers much concern. Johnson and Patterson were the Sidney stars, and Captain Tester was laying with his usual steady skill. Hughie Burnett made a most satisfactory referee.

Sidney Enthusiastic.
Judging from the number of spectators who witnessed the mix-up, the inhabitants of Sidney have taken enthusiastically to the national game. The fact that Pete Tester and his team have been twice defeated has detracted from this interest, and he good citizens of the city up the peninsula expect to see their fellows approve a great deal yet this season. Among the crowd were some many returned soldiers from Resthaven, who evidently enjoyed the contest hugely. A collection of some $25.00 was taken for the Red Cross.

The line-up was as follows:
Victoria—Goal—Sidney—Humphrey; Point—Tester; Coverpoint—Reid; 1st Defence—Burr; 2nd Defence—Walters; 3rd Defence—Johnson; Centre—Segalabra; 3rd Home—George; 1st Home—Unsworth; 2nd Home—Patterson; 3rd Home—McClure; 3rd Outside—B. McClure; 3rd Inside—B. McClure.

METROPOLIS DIAMOND
STARS DEFEAT SIDNEY

The Metropolis baseball team scored its second victory of the season yesterday by defeating the Sidney experts in their own diamond. The tally, 30-4 runs, to say the least, is suggestive of the character of the contest, and it is evident that the invading athletes did not have a very hard time of it. However, those who were present say it was a good game of ball, and the Sidney fellows took the beating with their usual fine sportsmanship.

Some Twirlers.
Caerell on the mound for the Metropolis bunched the opposing batters away with the settled conviction that Victoria can certainly produce twirlers. Sidney fandom was much in evidence and its enthusiasm was unbounded, but not after the fact that the Victoria boys knew more about the theory and practice of baseball than their opponents.

As the score shows, the batting was pretty heavy on both sides. Corlie, the Victoria catcher, was the most noticeable member of his team, and he found little difficulty in hammering the pill all over. Johnson was the biggest hitter on the Sidney aggregation. The batteries were—Metropolis: Caerell and Corlie; Sidney: Dan-niells and Johnson.

VICTORIA'S FASTEST LADY SWIMMER IS TO BE SEEN IN CARNIVAL

AUDREY GRIFFIN

who is undoubtedly the fastest swimmer of her sex this city has yet produced, will swim in the water carnival to be held at the Gorge on Victoria day. In February, 1917, Miss Griffin lowered the Canadian record for a hundred yards which had been established by Midge Griffin and knocked ten seconds off the time of the former champion covering the distance in one minute, twenty-six seconds. Last year she won the British Columbia championship for one hundred yards. Miss Audrey Griffin, who is a member of the Victoria Ladies Swimming Club, is also noted for accomplishments in long distance swimming.

ATHLETIC STARS WHO PLAYED IN THE BIG GAME "OVER THERE"

Athletes are doing their share toward winning the war. Up in Canada there was the Athletes' Battalion—every man a trained athlete and scores holding championships in all kinds of events. Tales of Longboat, the famous Indian runner, who was still alive, at last accounts, although he had used his old-time Marathon skill and endurance on many a battlefield and through many a barrage, carrying dispatches when wires were cut by bursting shells. And there was the famous Jack Munro, boxer and football player, who went into the German trenches swinging a deadly Hudson Bay axe in his right hand.

Complete Sportsmen's Register.
Thousands of college athletes—nearly all the active members of football, basketball, tennis, golf, cross-country, swimming, basketball, gymnastic, fencing, wrestling, boxing, and track and field teams—were in the first rush to enlist. Of these many have performed feats that have brought them advancement, and in some cases decoration by the French and the United States Governments. Many have distinguished themselves in the air, in a branch of the service for which their college training specially fitted them. Among those one of the most famous is Hobey Baker, of Princeton, who became an army aviator shortly after leaving college, before the United States entered the war, who has been at the front for some time and who has "brought down his German" in a gun battle above the clouds—and perhaps by this time two or three more. Baker was one of the greatest of all American college athletes, an "All-American" football, basketball, and hockey player, and a remarkably fast sprinter.

Many noted athletes are in the army and will soon see service at the front. Many of the most skillful boxers have been taken as instructors in the army camps, and some of these will be sent to France. Benny Leonard, Mike Gibbons, Jeff Smith, Packey McFarland, Battling Levinsky, Willie Ritchie, Bob Johnson, Frank Moran, Billy Hodenbach, Johnny Kilbane and a lot of others are busy in the camps, and doing splendid work in fitting the soldiers for the fighting. Many others have volunteered and others taken in the draft.

UNMACK SAYS THAT DURACK WILL COME
HERE THIS SUMMER

Regardless of any action that the amateur authorities of the States may take as to the standing of Fanny Durack there can be no doubt as to her appearance here this summer. W. H. Davies, who is promoting the gala in August is in receipt of a communication from the lady champion's manager, William Unmack, who states emphatically that Miss Durack will appear in this city in accordance with previous arrangements, and that Minnie Wylie, second only in aquatic accomplishments to the great Durack will also be seen in action. Miss Wylie is the only swimmer who can give Miss Durack a race, and she came second to the champion in the Stockholm Olympic Games. She also holds the world's record for the breast stroke. Mr. Unmack, authorizing Mr. Davies to make all arrangements with the American authorities with regard to Miss Durack's tour.

VICTORIA LACROSSE
CLUB WILL ORGANIZEMeeting To-night Will Discuss Revival of National Game;
the Vancouver Contest

The enthusiasts and players of the city intend to get together this evening and organize the Victoria Lacrosse Club at a meeting to be held at 8 o'clock at Dinsell's tailor shop, 1314 Douglas Street. If all goes well this summer should see the national game assume some of its ancient importance in athletic circles here.

Vancouver Game Later On.
There has been a rumor afloat lately to the effect that a game might be arranged with the Terminal City on June 1. Frank Sweeney said last night he did not believe that an inter-city contest would take place quite so soon since the Victoria players would not be in shape by that time. However, he says that there should be no difficulty in concluding the necessary arrangements with Vancouver at a later date. In order that there may be unified action in the matter it is deemed best to organize the Victoria Lacrosse Club and all matters pertaining to the playing will be discussed during the meeting to-night, at which it is hoped everyone interested in the game will be present.

Veterans in Action.
It is probable that a game between the present generation of stick-handlers and the veterans will be pulled off on June 3 in aid of the Comrades of the Great War.

Such a contest would arouse keen interest in local fandom for some of the ancient heroes would be seen in action again. Stan Peel, of historic fame, George Caldwell, another erstwhile athletic idol, Bob Dewar and Leo Sweeney will resurrect their sticks and paraphernalia and give the youngsters a mighty tough battle. Stevens, who is managing the veterans, says he will be able to trot out an all-star bunch which will be reminiscent of the good old days of long ago, but which will be right up to the minute as far as playing is concerned. Tommy Cessford, Charlie and Billy Fairall and Handley will probably add pep and science to the game. All these fellows have a strong following in local sport circles, and a game such as is suggested will be anticipated with the greatest pleasure.

The following are requested to be present at the meetings: Christopher, Burnett, R. McInnes, Hirst, Dinsmore, Sweeney, Medrick, Clegg, Kroeger, Cotton, Gifford, Humber, Redgrave, Ross, A. McInnes, Alexander, Dunn, Feedingham, Brynjolfsson, Mitchell, B. Mitchell, Homer, Kittinger, and Baker.

CRICKET NOTES
(By "Coverpoint")

The teams on Saturday were very evenly matched as twenty-two runs was the greatest victory obtained.

A very keen and strenuous game took place at the Work Point Barracks ground between the Willows Camp and the Five C's. It was generally expected it would be a bowlers' game, both sides being exceptionally strong in that department. The last bowler on each side took the honors, Davis and Bloor bowling magnificently all through their opponents' innings, and coming out with a striking analysis. The fielding on both sides was very keen, both teams working hard to keep the runs down. Sharpe, of the Willows eleven, brought off a magnificent catch at deep leg that sent two back to the pavilion, the player having to run a considerable distance to reach the ball. Lieut.-Col. Major's thirty-eight was the highest score of the game, and was made by good all-round cricket. He was the only batsman to really play the bowling with any confidence at all. Edwards and Davis, however, provided valuable contributions for their sides. Both teams appear to have powerful elevens and will be up amongst the top teams when the season closes.

Congos Start Winning Streak.
As predicted last week the much improved Congos team have started on a winning streak. On Saturday the Albion Club were forced to acknowledge defeat at their hands. The victory would do the Congos eleven a lot of good, and should be the forerunner of many more victories this season.

The side is not very much changed from last season, though Worthington and Booth are valuable additions. Coming to Saturday's game, the Albion eleven was a three-man affair, Walton, Martin and Tuttle between them getting practically all the run. Walton played particularly well for his twenty-five. Lock again demonstrated his value as a bowler by getting three for eighteen. Worthington was the mainstay of the Congos with his hard hit forty, though he received valuable assistance from Collett, Lock and Speak, and later on Austin carried on the good work with his seventeen. Parsons as usual bore the brunt of the Albion attack, but received very poor support in the field.

Victoria Triumphant.

It was mainly due to Verrall that the Victoria team were able to win against the District Depot, for besides scoring fifty out of the ninety-three runs scored by this side, he took six of the District Depot's wickets. Both teams were poorly represented, the Depot very badly missing Walton. At one period of the game a win for the Victoria looked very likely, for in reply to Victoria's ninety-three all out, forty-eight runs were on the board and only two wickets down, but the rest of the batsmen failed. To Howard and Barton belongs the credit of such a good start, and both men played well.

STECHER DEFEATS POSPISHEL.

Sioux City, Ia., May 20.—Joe Stecher, Nebraska wrestler champion, defeated Pospishel, the Slav giant, in two straight falls. The first was taken in thirteen minutes with a head scissor and waist lock, and the second in twenty-one minutes with a head scissor.

SMALL SCORES ARE MADE WITH WILLOWSaturday's Games All Close; Victorias, Congos and Five
C's Successful

The scores registered in the Virtue Cup cricket games on Saturday were, in every instance, close, the largest margin gained by any team being twenty-two runs. The bowlers had the advantage in all three contests and, except in a very few cases, small successes were achieved with the willow.

A considerable crowd of spectators assembled at Beacon Hill to witness a good even game which resulted in a victory for the Congos over the Albions by twenty-two runs. At Work Point the Five C's defeated the Willows Camp eleven in a bowlers' match, and the Victoria club was successful in the contest with the District Depot team at the Jubilee Hospital grounds.

SUMMER SOCCERITES FLOUTED B. C. F. A.
AT RECENT MEETINGWill Play Their Schedule Regardless of Action by Provincial Officials

Vancouver, B. C., May 20.—Officials of the new Mainland Football Association informed representatives of the British Columbia Football Association that they would not Saturday night that they would not co-operate in any way with the latter body in football affairs in the West, but would go ahead with their plans for senior, intermediate and junior leagues on purely amateur lines and would ignore all attempts by the B. C. F. A. to outlaw them.

Coughlan Thistles, represented by Present Dunc Neilson, of the ship-builders A. A., an organization of nearly 1,500 members, and Jim May, representing Nabob Celtics, two clubs which were among the strongest in the Vancouver and District League during the past winter, also informed President Samson, of the B. C. F. A., and would play through the schedule regardless of any action by that body. Shamrocks, composed of former I. L. A. players, and the Military team, took a similar stand, and it is said that the B. C. F. A. has received a "knockout blow" as a result of Saturday's talkfest.

W. J. Risk and Will Ellis represented the new Association at the meeting which was presided over by President Bob Samson, of the B. C. F. A., who, although only recently elected to that office, announced that he had resigned. Gus Wilson, also recently selected secretary of the B. C. F. A., has accepted the secretaryship of the new Mainland F. A.

The meeting broke up without any settlement being reached, the new Association refusing point blank to carry on any negotiations and the clubs and players falling in behind them.

The new Mainland Association Saturday elected the following officers: President, Con Jones; vice-president, James Campbell, president of the Vancouver Junior Alliance; secretary-treasurer, Gus Wilson; council, W. J. Risk, W. Ellis, J. Russell, R. Gavers, and Messrs. H. May, Kelly and Mercer, representing Coughlan, Nabob, Military and Shamrock clubs.

The first summer league match is scheduled for June 1, Saturday the

RECORD BREAKING SEEDED ACREAGE, SAYS GRANT HALL

Farmers Looking to a Bumper 1918 Crop; Will Tax Railway Systems

SAYS WATCHWORD OF HIS COMPANY IS CONSERVATION

While it was a little early in the season to make predictions, Grant Hall, vice-president of the C. P. R., when interviewed in Vancouver on Saturday afternoon, stated that the railway officials were pleased at the advanced preparations by the prairie farmers looking to a bumper crop this year. He felt safe in declaring that the outlook for a bountiful year of grain crops was never more assuring. The seeded acreage was of record breaking proportions and with favorable climatic conditions and an adequate supply of suitable labor he looked forward to an immense flood of prairie grain sufficient in volume to tax completely the carrying capacity of the railway systems. Mr. Hall is accompanying Sir George and Lady Bury, a party of eastern railwaymen, and personal friends who will remain in the Terminal City for a few days before coming to Vancouver Island.

Conservation the Watchword.
 Mr. Hall said that the entire Canadian Pacific organization would continue to devote its efforts towards conservation, the watchword of the win-the-war policy followed by the C. P. R., while the land service Department would pursue its efforts to get every possible acre under cultivation in Canada. On general win-the-war questions Mr. Hall believes that some form of national discipline is fully justified in Canada to-day for application to the citizens as a whole wherever necessary to effect conservation either in man-power or supplies. The manpower of Canada must be conserved just as rigidly as those requirements on food—if not, then the whole system of conservation is "leaky" and the bottom falls out of its effectiveness, he said.

There have always been enough people in any British country to see the thing that was right, and to insist upon its being done. We people of Canada are not used to this discipline. It is true, but we must all, you and I, exercise a wider vision and get away from some of the narrow prejudices in which we may have been brought up. The men at the head of affairs also must have a wide panoramic view of the whole thing before them and when you or I are told that we must do something—we must learn to do it. We may have to perform tasks or duties to which we are not accustomed, and we may not like the idea of women folks being employed in various forms of labor, but British women have done it, and have done it well. Canadian women can do just as nobly also and this is one of the things coming within the wider vision and all must obtain. There is an undoubted shortage of male labor. Somebody has to do the work and even while it may be hard for the present to become accustomed to these ideas, we must not lose sight of the fact that we have got to win. The big thing is the winning of the war. It will cost you something, and it will cost me something, but we must not lose sight of the fact for one moment that were we to lose, nothing else would matter.

Asked if there is any possibility of the Canadian Pacific Railway service employing women, the vice-president repeated the statement that there is a shortage of male labor, and somebody has to do the work. He said it may become necessary for the railroad company to use women in some capacities.

The Winnipeg Strike.
 Touching the question of the Winnipeg strike, Mr. Hall applied further arguments along the line of his conservation ideas. He said that the settlement of this and similar questions must be necessary under present conditions of such a nature that would lead to permanency. The state of affairs when a person waking up in the morning with a "bad head" could tell other people what they must and shall do had to go. "This applies to all of us and the only action in order to keep things moving along lines to win the war is for all parties in such matter to adopt only settlements of such definite and final nature as to preclude the possibility of recurrence at the present time when harmony and hard work are the nation's great essentials. If there really is necessity for a fight among ourselves," he continued, "let us realize and keep before us that the big thing coming always first is winning the war, and we can get down to our own fight when the war is over."

Negro Waiters.
 Touching on criticisms levelled at the C. P. R. because of the hiring of approximately 100 negroes for train service as cooks and waiters, Mr. Hall said that this system of service is nothing new, being used almost entirely by the railroads of the United States. In their criticism, some persons were prone to overlook the fact, he said, that the white men thus released from positions where they merely wait upon table are offered more remunerative jobs with the railroad at work which may be regarded as more useful. The negroes supply one form of man-power for use in other lines of service, all of which is in accord with the general conservation scheme, he said.

TRAVEL PROSPECTS NOT ENCOURAGING

Few Tourists in Honolulu Now, Travellers State, Owing to War Conditions

Not very promising is the prospect for travel from the Hawaiian Islands to the Pacific North West Coast, according to travellers who arrived from the Islands on the Niagara yesterday morning. In the last two years there has been building up during the summer months a considerable tourist travel which has benefited Victoria materially, many of the wealthy residents bringing their cars in which to tour on arrival.

It appears that the discouragement to travel originating in Washington has spread to the Islands and the hotels in Honolulu are feeling the withdrawal of traffic accordingly. Mr. and Mrs. E. Cykler, who were among the passengers who debarked here, bring the same story. Mr. Cykler says that there appears to be less prospect of travel to and from the Islands than for many years and that unless people are moving on business, there is no encouragement to travel. The loss of tourist business during the summer of 1918 is bound to be felt by a large number of people.

Mr. Cykler states that with the mobilization of the National Guard the various nationalities inhabiting the Islands will be mustered, and will probably take the place of the regular garrison who will be freed for active service. Owing to the complex racial types in the Islands it is not thought probable that their services will be used overseas.

Several other Honolulu people and Americans who have been down to the Islands for a short holiday are registered at the Empress hotel. The general opinion is that apart from war industries there will be very little development on the Islands for some time.
